James F. Flatley Loses Courageous Struggle To Survive Explosion Burns

James F. Flatley, 33, Gettysburg R. 6, lost a valiant and courageous 34-day struggle to survive an explosion that seared 95 percent of his body when he died at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Death came to the stout-hearted chemical plant foreman in the Millard Fillmore Hospital, Buffalo, N.Y., where he was receiving care from specialists in the burns center of the institution.

He was removed by air ambulance to Buffalo from Gettysburg February 13 after receiving exceptional care from Dr. Edward Baranski at the Warner Hospital where he had been rushed after being severely burned in an explosion at the Hercules Alclor Chemical plant, Seven Stars, February 4.

LAUD DR. BARANSKI

Specialists at the Buffalo hospital were high in their praise of Dr. Baranski. They told The Gettysburg Times: "Dr. Baranski did a spectacular job on Flatley to keep him alive as long as he did. Only his expert attention prolonged his life."

The local hospital is not equipped as a burns center for treatment of extensive burns and it was because of this that Flatley was removed to Buffalo. Mrs. Flatley's parents reside in a Buffalo suburb.

ALWAYS CONSCIOUS

Flatley never lost consciousness, to the amazement of local surgeons. They attributed his determination to live, his stout heart and a strong constitution coupled with expert medical care to his long survival.

Buffalo specialists, admitting his condition was most critical, clung to hope that he might survive. However, over the weekend he took a turn for the worse and he was near death. He recovered and hope for survival was revived.

Attending physicians said Flatley's condition deteriorated about 48 hours before his death, and difficulty in breathing required a tracheotomy early Wednesday morning.

THREE GRAFTINGS

The local man underwent three skin grafting operations after being removed to the Buffalo hospital. Skin was given by his brothers. Additional grafting was to be done this week.

He was the first patient at Millard Fillmore Hospital to receive the new method of treating severe burns involving the application of a dilute solution of silver nitrate to stimulate healing and reduce danger of infection.

A hospital staff spokesman said the chemical plant foreman's condition had been grave since his admission to the hospital and would have remained so, under any circumstances.

GOP APPROVES NEW BYLAWS

Adams County Republicans Wednesday evening tentatively approved the committee's new bylaws, which include a change in the manner of appointing the executive committee, and met the candidates for election to county offices. More than 200 committee men, state employees and voters attended the meeting, which was held in the court room. Clark E. Spence, county chairman, was in charge.

Under the new bylaws the executive committee would be named by district committeemen rather than by the county chairman. The bylaws will be adopted formally at the April meeting, Spence said.

Committeemen were reminded that March 29 is the deadline for registering voters for the May 18 primary and were urged by Spence to make certain every eligible voter in the individual districts is registered by that date.

The following candidates were introduced: For sheriff, Melvin Nary, Richard Smith, Fred Swisher and Charles Swopy; for county treasurer, Henry Lower and Robert Geigley.

Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker discussed the reapportioning bill under study in Harrisburg and the school bus bill, which was passed Tuesday evening by the House by a vote of 120-83. He predicted that the bill will pass the Senate by about the same margin. He stated, however, that he feels "it should be placed before the voters instead of letting legislators make the decision."

FIRE DESTROYS $15,000 HOME

Firemen from four Maryland communities were unable Wednesday afternoon to save a $15,000 frame storehouse and apartment house in Detour after one of the companies was held up by a Western Maryland freight train at the crossing on the Union Bridge Rd.

The building, owned by Mrs. Clara Harner, was a total loss, as the result of a blaze which is believed to have started in a second-floor apartment from a faulty electric water heater. Mrs. Carrie Diller, who occupied the apartment, escaped without injury, but all contents of the building were destroyed. A furniture store on the first floor was closed at the time of the blaze.

Fire Chief Jack Grey, Union Bridge, said his company was delayed several minutes by a passing freight train and by the time they arrived firemen from Rocky Ridge also had arrived. Grey said high winds hampered attempts of firemen to save the structure.

Mrs. Harner said a new slate roof, installed on the building in November, may have helped to save nearby buildings from damage.

OFFER MOBILE KITCHEN UNIT TO FIREMEN

Gettysburg firemen were offered a mobile kitchen Wednesday night by the Salvation Army provided they house it and man it.

The matter was referred to a committee after Chief of Police Jack Bartlett, local Salvation Army representative, reported that Philadelphia officials from the Salvation Army had asked him to seek to set up a mobile kitchen program to serve in any emergency.

The mobile kitchen, he said "is a truck somewhat similar in size to the 'Mr. Frostie' truck that is used here." The vehicle will be placed here by the Salvation Army if a place can be secured to house it, "at no cost to the Salvation Army," and if a crew can be secured to see to its maintenance and use as needed.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Bartlett said the truck would go into operation "whenever there is emergency need, such as a long fire when firemen are at the scene for hours and need food."

According to Bartlett, the Salvation Army hopes to place the vehicle in Adams County and if Gettysburg firemen cannot see their way clear to use it, will probably offer it to other communities in the county.

President Fern Ohler appointed a committee comprised of Glenn Weishaar, Charles J. Kerrigan, Robert Heyser, Harvey Gastley and Francis I. Linn to study the proposal.

Discussion at the meeting noted that the fire companies of the county already have arrangements for food to be brought to firemen in case they are held at fires or other emergencies for long periods of time, mostly through committees of their auxiliaries.

C. A. Wills, President Of Gettysburg National Bank 30 Years, Resigns

Clarence A. Wills, one of Adams County's leading bankers and a pioneer industrialist, retired Tuesday from the presidency of the Gettysburg National Bank, a position he held for more than 30 years. He will continue to serve as a member of the board of directors.

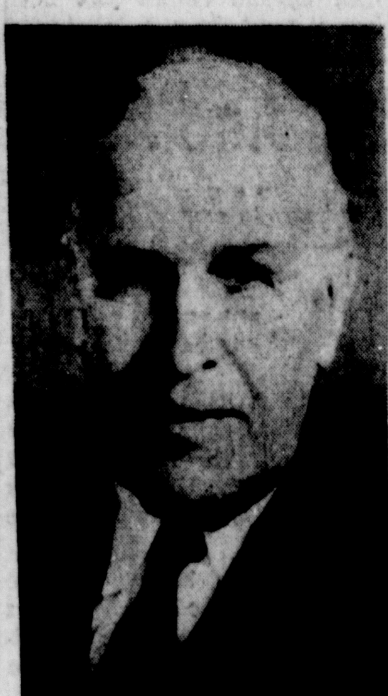

Mr. Wills told the board he was retiring for "reasons of health." His announcement was accepted by the board at the regular weekly meeting "with deep regrets and sincere appreciation for the many years he has served the bank and the community."

A successor has not yet been named.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS TALK ON STOCK MARKET

Robert E. Montgomery of the York office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith spoke on "The Stock Market Today" at a meeting of the Woman's Club at the YWCA Wednesday afternoon.

He gave a brief history of the stock market since 1961 and discussed new factors of the market. He said, "Women control most of the money in the country and housewives make up the largest group of investors. Consumer spending has contributed to the rise in the stock market, which has four factors: Good earnings, dividend increase, stock dividends and splits, the public being in a consumer buyer mind and saving being at a high level." He discussed the effect of automation on the market and recommended the following points for investors: "1. Be cautiously optimistic; 2. watch the changing favorites; 3. don't be afraid to take a profit in a speculative position; 4. know a little bit about the laws governing investments; 5. don't talk about your investments; 6. spread your investments around, don't put all your eggs in one basket."

King On Contempt Charge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge rejected today a motion by Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of a massive Negro voter drive, be held in contempt for leading a street march at Selma.

"Any contempt or order to show cause is a matter between this court and the alleged contempts," said U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr.

The motion by Clark's attorneys came at the outset of a hearing on a move by civil rights leaders and the Justice Department for an order barring interference with peaceful demonstrations.

While the hearing went on, about 100 demonstrators continued a prayer vigil in a Selma street for a white minister lying near death after a beating by a white gang.

King was called as a witness. So were Clark and Col. Albert J. Lingo, commander of state troopers. Other witnesses included the mother and grandfather of Jimmie Lee Jackson, a (Continued on Page 8)

CC WILL OPEN NEW OFFICE ON YORK STREET

The Gettysburg Area Chamber of Commerce will move its office to 11 York St. about April 1.

Members of the Chamber's Board of Directors in a special meeting Wednesday afternoon at the present office on the second floor of the Plaza building signed a five-year lease for the ground floor office on York St. formerly occupied by Miss Martha Stallsmith, real estate broker, and by Thomas McSherry and Thomas Gibbons, tax and accounting specialists.

President Julian Estep appointed Julius Swope and Nicholas A. Melgakes as the committee to arrange for making a number of changes in the York St. office and to arrange for the actual moving of files and equipment from the present office in the Plaza building to the new office.

OK'D BY MEMBERS

Chester Byers and Robert McCoy were named as the committee to set up the new office. Tentative plans are for the office to be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and a half-day on Saturday. A formal opening is planned.

President Estep said the move to full time office operation in a first floor location was approved by the membership in connection with a recent vote in which dues were raised to $75 per year. More than 70 percent of the membership has already paid the increased dues, Estep said.

The Chamber of Commerce office has been located in the second floor of the Plaza building for more than 25 years and has been operated on a "part-time" basis, open several hours daily.

Before becoming a college professor he worked for two years in Delaware in juvenile delinquency. He organized the youth center at Emmitsburg, and serves as coach of the Youth Center basketball team.

White Minister Near Death After Beating By 3 Whites

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A white minister was near death today in a hospital, his anxious wife near his side, while in Selma three white men faced state and federal charges in the beating given him and two other Unitarian clergymen.

The Rev. James J. Reeb, 38, of Boston, still was unconscious from a clubbing he received Tuesday night in Selma as the aftermath of a civil rights march there.

His wife, Marie, was with him at the hospital, pale and shaken by what had happened.

HAS 4 CHILDREN

The mother of four children told newsmen Wednesday after her arrival from Boston that both she and her husband had been aware of the potential danger when he took the trip South.

"I said I would prefer that he didn't go," she said, her lips quivering slightly. "But he felt he had to go."

Mrs. Reeb said her husband considered the civil rights cause important enough to merit the beating he received at the hands of white men outside a Selma cafe.

All Of County To Be One Unit But McSherrystown, Conewago Go To Hanover

Rejecting the plan for school district reorganization adopted last May on a 3-2 vote by the Adams County Board of School Directors, the state Board of Education today announced these decisions in pending appeals on the county school plan:

1. The plan of the McSherrystown School District to remain an independent school district was turned down.
2. McSherrystown Borough and Conewago Twp. School Districts are assigned to Hanover School District under the York County plan.
3. All other school districts in Adams County will become a single unit.

Adams County Board had proposed a six-unit county plan with McSherrystown and Conewago Twp. districts assigned to the New Oxford unit. Later the Adams County Board had expressed its unwillingness to release Conewago and McSherrystown to York County but had offered to receive Hanover into the Adams County plan.

The orders handed down by the state Board of Education today will become effective July 1, 1966.

Driver Charged Following Mishap

A Fairfield driver faces reckless driving charges in Chambersburg as the outcome of an intersection crash at 3:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Robert H. Fissel, 40, Fairfield, allegedly cut in front of another auto making a turn from South Second into East Liberty Street from the right lane of traffic.

Damage was $75 to Fissel's car and $10 to the station wagon driven by Guy M. Flory Jr., 36, Chambersburg R. 6, in the collision.

EASTER SEAL SALE REPORT SHOWS $1,736

Early donations to the Easter Seal sale being conducted by the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults total $1,736.75, directors of the society were told at their March meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist Church here.

The report was given by Mrs. George B. Inskip, the society treasurer, who said the total is "a little above" the comparable date last year. She reported for Mrs. Norman Richardson, Easter Seal campaign chairman, who could not attend Wednesday's meeting.

Richard V. Emerson, co-chairman of the campaign, presented a report and Mrs. Richard Livingston said more than 100 coin containers have been placed throughout the county in connection with the seal sale. J. Herbert Weikert said plans are being made for "Buck-a-Cup Day" in the county April 1 as another fund raising method.

6 CAMPER PROSPECTS

Nurses reported there are six prospective summer campers from among the crippled children under the care of the society and the society president, Mrs. Robert MacAskill, distributed brochures on the states society's summer camping program for children and adults.

Miss Grace Kenney, society secretary, was elected again as its representative on the board of directors of the state organization.

COULSON "SURPRISED"

County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson, when informed late this morning of the state board's decisions, expressed "surprise" and then said: "Since this is the decision of the state board, it will take a great deal of leadership and courage for the school administrators and school directors to put this plan into operation."

Today's decisions followed the filing of appeals to the Adams and York County School Reorganization plans late last summer. An all-day hearing was held in Harrisburg last November 4 by a committee of the state board.

The appeal of the McSherrystown district was that it be allowed to continue as an independent school district with its present low tax rate and its public school pupils sent to Conewago Twp. and Hanover schools.

4 ASK SINGLE UNIT
Conewago Twp. had asked in its appeal to be joined with the Hanover School District.

With Littlestown Joint School District joining at the hearing stage, the third appeal from the Adams County plan was by East Berlin borough, Mt. Pleasant Twp. and Straban Twp. School Districts asking that the county be made a single school district instead of the six-unit plan.

FAR-REACHING RESULTS
The Hanover School District had filed an appeal from the York County plan asking that Conewago Twp. School District be linked with it.

MEDIC-ALERT PROGRAM TO BE PROMOTED

Details on the "Medic-Alert" program of the Gettysburg-Hanover Life Underwriters Association were outlined Wednesday afternoon at its meeting in the Lamp Post Tea Room.

President Chester S. Shriver appointed Harry D. Borger, Richard L. Swope, Frank Tananias, Philip O. Neth, Clarence Krichen Jr. and Rodney Sneeringer as the committee to arrange a program whereby persons in the area who have problems of allergies or diseases which should be immediately known to physicians should those persons be found unconscious may obtain metal bracelets, anklets or necklaces. Full information concerning the medical history of the individual will go to a central clearing house. A physician coming upon a person wearing a medic-alert medal would have some information immediately as to what to avoid, and by making a collect call to the central information center can obtain the complete medical details.

SPEAKS ON "ELDER-CARE"
Dr. Harold Closson, secretary of the Adams County Medical Society and physician at the college here, praised the medic-alert program and told of experiences in which physicians, unaware of special problems of unknown patients, had followed normal medical practices which had resulted in death to the patient.

Dr. Closson spoke to the insurance agents on the "Elder-Care" (Continued on Page 2)

Starnat, Biglerville, presided at the meeting at which Mrs. Clarence Smith reported that the auxiliary has 224 paid up members. Mrs. Violet Ondek reported on the advisory committee of the county home.

Plans were made for a bazaar to be held April 10 at the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank in New Oxford for the benefit of the home.

MEDIC-ALERT

(Continued From Page 1) Care" program recommended by the American Medical Society in opposition to the Medicare bill now before Congress. The Elder-Care program is also contained in a proposed bill before Congress.

Dr. Closson said the Elder-care bill would provide more benefits for elderly people in need than Medicare and cost less to operate. The Elder-care program has a maximum income level at which care can be given. Medicare provides certain services to those 65 no matter how great a fortune they may have.

Robert R. McCoy spoke on "The Why of the Life Underwriters Training Council." Membership Chairman Joseph Claiborn announced the organization has 50 members paid up plus five associate members. The president reminded members of the Pennsylvania sales caravan to be held April 6 at the Host Motel, Lancaster, and the state convention to be held in Philadelphia May 19 and 20.

At the second of the noontime Lenten meditations held at the YWCA Wednesday Richard Shaffer, 20 Seminary Ave., spoke on "Spiritual Security." He said, "Jesus was tempted as we are but always had the power to resist temptation which gave Him the security on which He based His life on earth. Are we as concerned with spiritual things as with material things on which we spend so much time? The Lenten sacrifices we assume should not be done for just the short period of Lent but should be continued and made a way of life for us. We need spiritual security more than economic, family or any other form of security."

Mrs. Paul L. Reaser presided at the piano and accompanied group singing. Luncheon was served prior to the service by Miss Martha Lentz and Mrs. Ruth Johns.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE DEFERRED

Former District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter and Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder were among those who testified this morning in Adams County court during a hearing on the petition of Francis Norman Light, 57, Hanover truck driver for a habeas corpus.

Light, sentenced to prison six years ago on a charge of murder arising from the stab-wound death of his wife in Cumberland Twp., July 7, 1958, is seeking his freedom because, he alleges, his civil rights were violated preceding and during his trial.

At noon the court continued the hearing to a later date because Light, while on the stand, had mentioned speaking with Attorney Eugene R. Hartman. Hartman was not available to testify today.

Teeter testified he informed Light that he had a right to an attorney, that he need not answer questions and that anything he might say would be held against him.

Snyder, Cpl. Harold Eckenrode, Cpl. Leon D. Lighter and Richard J. Hann also testified.

Bomber Crashes In N. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U. S. Air Force B57 jet bomber crashed late today on a strike mission in Binh Dinh Province, about 260 miles north of Saigon.

The fate of the two Americans aboard was not immediately known, but a ground search party reported no bodies in the wreckage. Other reports said the two were seen to have ejected from the craft before it crashed.

A military spokesman said cause of the crash was not known, but other pilots in the area had encountered no groundfire.

The bomber was said to have hit a Viet Cong target area with napalm bombs just before it went down.

LBJ And Aides Talk War Plan At Camp David

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential policy conference at Camp David indicates new decisions on the U.S. role in the Vietnamese war may be in the making.

One question believed to be under top-level consideration is whether U.S. air attacks on military bases in North Viet Nam should be carried deeper into that country. So far they have been restricted to the southern regions, well away from the capital, Hanoi.

Wednesday night's conference at the presidential retreat in the mountains of western Maryland brought together President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and McGeorge Bundy and Bill D. Moyers, White House aides.

The topic for the meeting was not announced but it was understood that the major subject, at least, was Viet Nam and that Camp David was chosen by the President because it afforded a relaxed atmosphere in which he and his chief advisers could talk out the whole complex of problems associated with the Southeast Asian conflict.

Autos began to advance in mid-morning. Credited for some of the strength was a published report that the auto industry is moving from one record to another.

elementary school and sends its high school pupils to Hanover on tuition.

There was no indication today as to whether there will be court appeals from the state board decisions.

Far-reaching effects will come from today's decision, county school officials agreed today.

ONE SCHOOL BOARD

After July 1 of next year, there will be a single school board of nine directors for the county — with Conewago and McSherrystown no longer considered a part of the county for school purposes. All of the schools will operate under one administrative unit with more than 9,000 pupils.

The case for the County Board of School Directors was argued at the Harrisburg hearing by Attorney Eugene Hartman, its solicitor.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL DECISION

District Attorney Gerald Walmer represented the districts asking a single district for all the county.

Attorney Edward B. Bulleit represented Conewago Twp. in its successful attempt to join the Hanover School District and Attorney Ronald Hagarman appeared in behalf of the appeal of the McSherrystown board.

The county plan adopted last May provided for a six-unit setup with school administrative units at Gettysburg, Upper Adams, Fairfield, Littlestown, New Oxford and Bermudian Springs.

The present score of school districts will be consolidated into a single district under today's decision.

The state board, sitting earlier this morning as the State Board of Vocational Education, released Fairfield Joint School District from the Franklin County Area Technical School proposal. This action frees Fairfield for inclusion in the Adams County Technical School plan.

Elected Adviser Of Explorer Post 79

M. I. Bergdale was elected adviser of Explorer Post 79 of St. James Lutheran Church Tuesday evening at a meeting of the unit's committee at the church.

AIRMAN IS COMMENDED; SAVED LIFE

Three commendations for saving the life of a serviceman with a critical heart ailment have been conferred on Airman Joe Yingst, 20, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Harvey Yingst of Arkansas, Wis., formerly of Gettysburg.

A patient in Ward 4 at Norton Air Force Base in California created an emergency situation while Yingst was on duty. He maintained mouth to mouth resuscitation under most difficult situations for an hour and a half.

Capt. Ernest Mazzafeni and Capt. Gary Jones, internal medicine and surgical staff members at Norton, said they were sure that "the effective and knowledgeable manner" in which Yingst performed emergency service "significantly altered the course of events."

Col. W. T. Culver, hospital commander, praised Yingst for "outstanding attention to duty and very dedicated persistence."

Capt. James T. Richards Jr., of the medical squadron there, wrote Yingst that he was "very proud to have a person of your energy and dedication in this squadron. I admire you because you seem to be among a relative few who recognize that a man's highwater mark of success is built not upon what he gets but upon what he gives."

Since the commendation, Yingst has been promoted to airman second class. He also won a $7.50 military suggestion award for a proposal to change thermometer holders at the hospital.

He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Yingst, 325 S. Washington St.

institutional representative for the post and that vacancy caused by his appointment as advisor will be filled by the clergy of the church.

Members of the committee in addition to Chairman Powell and Bergdale, attended the meeting were Rev. John S. Bishop, clerical advisor; Elmer M. Gruver, secretary; Jack Waybrant, transportation officer, Sheldon Waite and Richard Kershner, associate advisors.

SET DEADLINE FOR ESSAYS IN VFW CONTEST

Completed plans for the annual essay contest held by Gettysburg Post 15 of Veterans of Foreign Wars as part of its Loyalty Day program were announced today by Water O. Powell, chairman of the committee and senior vice-commander of the post.

The contest is open to members of the Senior class of Gettysburg High School and title of the essay is to be "What Loyalty Day Means to Me."

McDermitt, Air Corps Reserve, an instructor of business classes at Gettysburg High School.

WOULD FORCE SALE OF LAND

Anna M. Pitman, McKnightstown, has brought an equity action in county court seeking to obtain a deed to property she allegedly wishes to purchase from Clarence C. and Freda Frances B. Fritz, also of McKnightstown.

According to Mrs. Pitman's complaint, filed in the probate court by Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, she and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz entered into a written memorandum of agreement May 11, 1962, by which Mrs. Pitman would be able to buy from Mr. and Mrs. Fritz for $7,000 two tracts of land along the new Lincoln Highway. The amount included cabins and a residence on the property. According to the agreement, Mrs. Pitman could pay 40 percent of the rentals received from the cabins and that amount would go toward the purchase cost.

She alleges she has paid Mr. and Mrs. Fritz $1,433.20 from the rentals, and that Mr. and Mrs. Fritz refuse to give her a deed while notifying her that they have no desire any longer to continue with the agreement, have not returned the amount paid.

She asks the court to force Mr. and Mrs. Fritz to give her a deed on payment of the remaining $5,566.80.

Offer Resolution Backing Crime War

HARRISBURG (AP) — A resolution asking the General Assembly to pledge its full cooperation in joining President Johnson's "War on Crime" is before the Senate.

It was offered by Sen. Louis C. Johanson, D - Philadelphia, who urged the judiciary to "impose maximum sentences upon every armed person who is convicted for a crime" during the next two years.

He asked for the strict punishment so that "the criminal element in our society will understand that the day of the lenient district attorney and lenient judge no longer exists."

Two resolutions also were introduced by Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, one urging that a new state college be located at Somerset, the other that a community college be established in the Bedford area.

The youths were sentenced to terms in the State Correctional Institution at Camp Hill. Ronald Burgess, 18, and Alex Norris, 15, were sentenced to six months, and the other three — Alan Brooks, 16, James Hall, 15, and Joseph Caldwell, 17 — to indeterminate terms.

TO INTERVENE IN SCHOOL SUIT

HARRISBURG (AP) — Six Northampton County school districts are seeking to intervene in behalf of the State Board of Education in a Commonwealth Court suit involving reorganization.

The Wilson Borough Union School District asked the court last month to reverse a reorganization order handed down by the board on grounds it was unconstitutional.

A request to intervene on the side of the board was filed Wednesday by the Easton City Schools, Lower Mount Bethel Independent District, Forks Twp., Williams Twp., Palmer Twp. and Riegelsville Borough.

The Riegelsville district had contended that the reorganized districts were "classified on a basis other than and without regard to population." The opposing districts said that if the reorganization order is set aside, school children would be deprived of an "opportunity to acquire the education they need . . ."

CHERRY GROUP SETS HEARING

Growers and handlers of red tart cherries are reminded that the fourth session of a hearing to consider a proposed marketing agreement and order has been scheduled for Monday, March 22. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service announced that the session will be held at the Gettysburg National Bank, which is located at 245 Breckenridge St. in Gettysburg, Pa. The meeting will start at 10 a.m.

The proposed program, which was recommended by the National Cherry Growers Council, is intended to provide a more even flow of cherries to market. Under the marketing agreement and order, that total quantity of cherries handled may be limited. Also, each handler would set aside a portion of the cherries he acquires for a given period. In so doing, he would be reimbursed for any expenses he incurs.

Once sufficient evidence is developed at the hearing to support the proposal and approval of it is obtained from the secretary of agriculture, the matter is submitted to a referendum vote of cherry growers.

The first of the hearing's four sessions was held in Grand Rapids, Mich., March 10. The second is scheduled for Sturgeon Bay, Wis., March 15, and the third in Rochester, N.Y., March 18.

First Sgt. Curvin G. Mickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Mickle, Cashman, has returned to the United States after serving for three years in India with an engineer unit, his parents learned in a telegram from their son today.

Sergeant Mickle was a member of the local National Guard company before that unit was called to duty. He landed in California this week, and expects to return home soon on a furlough.

Draft age men who are contemplating changing jobs should consult their local draft boards first for a determination of the importance of the prospective position, draft board officials warned today.

Men who make changes without consulting their Selective Service board will be liable for induction into the armed forces, it was asserted. Men leaving critical war industries or other essential war jobs in which they have been serving may find themselves faced with prompt induction into the armed forces if they change jobs without a preliminary approval from Selective Service authorities.

These regulations apply to all men of draft age — from 18 to 35 — and to all occupations, farmers included.

Mrs. Emma E. Sheffer, who has been clerk of the courts for Adams County since the death last fall of her husband, Howard W. "Dutch" Sheffer, announced her candidacy today for the Republican nomination for that office in the primary election June 19.

Mrs. Sheffer is the first woman to hold the office of clerk of the courts and is the first woman to hold any of the major county positions. Also for the first time in history is one of the county offices completely in charge of women.

Mrs. Carl Taylor, Bendersville has received word her husband, Pvt. C. G. Taylor, is now in Belgium.

Today's Talk

THE LISTENER

I like to be with people. I like to hear them express themselves. One is never too old to learn something new. In a group of people, however, I keep my eye on the listener. He is a marked man, or woman, for me. Usually he or she is the thinker in the group — with an invisible secretary, writing down expressions worth remembering.

The listener and thinker are usually synonymous. I once sat in a hotel room where a brilliant group of noted men sat and talked, at a national political Presidential convention. All were famous and outstanding figures. The talk was interesting and enlightening, but there was one in the group who just sat and listened. I watched him. He was a famed editorial writer. I wondered why he said nothing. Perhaps he was simply gathering material.

The listener is always ahead for he never loses any of his thoughts, discarding those of others which he deems unworthy to store in his own mind. Not until he feels that he can add something that will clarify a discussion does he talk at all, and not always then!

Listeners are often misjudged as those having no ideas of their own. Often has the listener turned his silence into profit. I recall an example of his. A careless talker in a group, casually mentioned the fact of a certain deal that might be made. One listener said nothing but hastily went and completed the transaction, which netted him a fine return.

It was said of Marshall Field, founder of the great Field fortune, that he was a man of few words — a good listener and a rare judge of men. Listeners are forever turning to good account all that they hear. They are men and women of action. The smartest person is not the one who asks the most questions, but the one who listens most carefully to the answers given! Rodin's great bronze creation, "The Thinker," has always intrigued me. I have stood before it many times, and wondered if Rodin didn't convey the idea that his thinker was listening as well as thinking?

APARTMENT FOR BOOKS
My bookcase long has seemed to me
A great apartment house to be,
Wherein my lifetime friendships dwell,
Awaiting me to ring the bell.

Back shelf, a floor where friends abide
Wordsworth and Shelley, side by side;
Bob Burns and Shakespeares.
Call, they say,
Whenever you may chance this way.

Some friends are old and some are young;
Some gifted with the witty tongue;
Some strong in faith, in wisdom deep
To aid and comfort all who weep.

As in some building's inner hall,
The names appear upon the wall.
So I, the varied titles read
To find the friend whose help I need.

Surgeon Discusses Danger Of Injury

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A Canadian surgeon says medical attempts to save a patient's badly injured hand are not only difficult, but sometimes can cause more trouble than amputation.

Dr. Gordon Grant, Victoria, B.C., told a symposium at a sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons here Wednesday that such attempts are "roughly comparable to an attempt to build a house of cards in a high wind."

Also, Dr. Grant said, severe injury to the dominant hand in a male may lead to psychological problems or psychoses. The amputee may be easier to rehabilitate than the victim whose hand is unsightly and only slightly useful, he said.

COLLINS PLANS MOVES TO EASE SELMA STRIFE

By BEN CHESTER

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — LeRoy Collins, director of the federal Community Relations Service, says he will attempt to meet with a few Selma business leaders today in an effort to establish "common rapport" in this racially troubled town.

The former Florida governor, who canceled a speech at the University of Florida to fly here Wednesday night, said he would also like to talk with John Lewis, national director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and Wilson Baker, Selma public safety director.

Collins said he might attempt to confer with Negro integrationist leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

ANXIOUS TO HELP
The decision to return here was made by Collins following two attempted marches in Selma by Negroes and whites in protest of voter registration difficulties.

Collins said the decision was his own and was made following telephone conversations with Washington and his field representatives here.

"We are anxious to be of any help we can in bringing about peaceful compliance with the civil rights law," Collins said. "We can't do it ourselves, but we may help some of the people here do it."

The CRS director said he would like to see permanent plans worked out which would result in sound race relations.

CITIZENS MEET

An Alabama Citizens Committee, established several months ago to promote peaceful race relations, met Wednesday in Birmingham. The meeting was attended by one of Collins' field workers. However, Collins said, Selma has no representative on the committee.

Collins reportedly was the key federal negotiator in the Tuesday night march by about 2,000 civil rights demonstrators. The marchers, led by King, turned back after walking a short distance beyond the Alabama River bridge toward Montgomery.

King said Collins handed him "something of a route" after consulting with Al Lingo, Alabama public safety director, and Dallas County Sheriff James G. Clark. The demonstrators did not attempt to pass police lines.

Collins coordinated efforts Tuesday with those of John Doar, assistant U.S. attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's civil rights division. He was in contact with Doar again Wednesday night.

Queen Will Heal Breach With Wife Of Ex-Monarch

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP) — After 29 years, Queen Elizabeth II is ending the British royal boycott of the Duchess of Windsor.

As the duke — her uncle — lay ill in London with the sight of one eye in danger, the queen let it be known she intends to visit him and meet the American-born divorcee for whom he gave up the British throne in 1936.

No previous meeting between the queen and the duchess is on record. The general belief in London is that they have never met.

DUKE TOO ILL

The queen intended the meeting to take place today. But the duke, lying immobile and with his eyes bandaged after his fourth major operation in three months, was too ill to receive visitors.

The queen is expected to visit her uncle when his doctors decide he is well enough.

"This is not a casual meeting," said a spokesman for Buckingham Palace. "It has been arranged that when the queen goes to visit the duke, the duchess will be with him."

THIRD OPERATION

Wednesday the duke underwent a third operation to correct a detached retina of the left eye. His physicians said his condition was "technically satisfactory." The eye surgery followed a major operation in the United States last December to repair an abdominal artery.

Medical sources said the operation Wednesday would be the last attempt to correct the duke's eye trouble, indicating that his age and his recent circulatory trouble would make further surgery hazardous.

The duke — the former King Edward VIII — is 70. The duchess is 68. The queen was a 10-year-old girl when he sailed from Britain in December 1936, to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson.

ANNUAL VISIT

Over the years the duke and duchess have lived mostly in France and the United States but customarily have visited Britain before Christmas each year.

On these visits the duke usually called on members of his family, but the duchess never was received by them. Some newspapers, notably the Daily Express, frequently urged that their exile should end and their last years be spent in Britain.

The queen's intention to meet the duchess made the main headlines in most London newspapers. The pro-Labor Sun commented: "If the queen invites the duke and duchess to stay in Britain it will be an immensely popular gesture."

The Sun said Princess Margaret is believed to have played a leading part in the reconciliation between the royal family and the Windsors.

"She is," it reported, "particularly fond of the duke, her Uncle David."

MORE MARINES GO TO OKINAWA

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — A 6,000-man Marine brigade boarded ships Wednesday night, reportedly bound for Okinawa to replace 3,500 Marines sent to South Viet Nam early this week.

"The Marines are moving," said a spokesman for Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific military commander. There was no other official comment in Hawaii on the troop movement.

The 1st Marine Brigade members were moved from Hawaii's Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station to Pearl Harbor by truck convoy last month.

Original plans were for the Marines to take part in Operation Silver Lance, the military training maneuver off the California Coast.

But the first units of the brigade boarded ships Wednesday night for Okinawa, not California. About 1,000 brigade members are staying behind in Hawaii.

A report from Washington said the brigade includes helicopter units also bound for Okinawa, the main American military staging area in the Far Pacific.

Nine Foul Conversions In Extra Period Enable New Oxford To Retain A-F Title

Landing nine of 10 free throws in the overtime period, the Colonials of New Oxford High School retained their Adams-Franklin County League basketball championship by tripping Greencastle 78-74 Wednesday evening on the Gettysburg High School court before a capacity crowd.

With the count tied at 69-69 at the end of the regulation game, New Oxford opened the overtime frame with a pair of charity tosses by Jock Sneddon and from that point on it was all Colonials. Sneddon and Jim Kemp added three more fouls while Harold Grenawalt tossed in a free throw for the Blue Devils and the extra tosses gave New Oxford a 74-70 advantage.

New Oxford led 52-48 going into the final regular frame. However, during the first few minutes the count exchanged hands four times before the Franklin champs darted to a 69-64 lead behind Gary Flythe and Jim Wesley with 1:19 remaining in the game. At 1:06 John Harner hit from the key followed by Larry Phiel's corner jumper with 46 seconds to go. Grenawalt then brought the ball back up court for the Blue Devils, but threw a pass out of bounds. Sneddon was fouled bringing the ball back up court and knotted the count on the second of two shots. Vaughn Swope then worked the ball back in play for Greencastle and took the last shot, but it rimmed the basket and rolled out. This set the stage for the thrilling overtime performance.

GET QUICK LEAD
New Oxford started out as if it were going to dominate the contest. The Colonials ran a string of 10 straight points towards the end of the first stanza to lead 19-13 and finally went into the second period with a 21-15 bulge. Sneddon and Phiel paced the fast attack.

Swope, putting on one of the finest performances of the evening, landed two quick goals to get Greencastle moving in the second eight minutes. After Harner, Landis and Sneddon netted five more tallies. Swope swished two more goals. With 1:30 to go in the first half, Swope, with help of Gary Flythe, closed out with six straight points to knot the count at 31-31 at intermission.

The third quarter was a nip-and-tuck battle from start to finish. The lead alternated hands four times and it was tied three other times. Midway through the stanza, Jerry Smith, Greencastle's seventh man and a fine playmaker, was forced to leave the game. While going after a loose ball, he slid into the stands and sustained a ligament injury. He came off the bench early in the half to spark Greencastle's drive. The third period ended with New Oxford in command 52-48.

TOP POINT MEN
Harner and Sneddon paced the Colonials' attack with 22 points each. Sneddon scored 18 of his 22 from the foul line on 20 charity tosses. New Oxford's decision came from the free throw line as it converted 32 of 40 shots while Greencastle made 10 of 23. Vaughn Swope was the game's leading scorer with 26 tallies on 12 of 30 shots from the field and two of four free throws.

As a team, the Colonials hit on 23 of 65 field shots while Greencastle landed 32 of 86 tries. The Blue Devils controlled the boards 60-56.

The championship gives Jake Divney and his New Oxford squad the Adams-Franklin title

STEEL-HIGH NIPS CHESTER IN BIG PLAYOFF

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For the third time in as many games, Steel-Highspire has handed defeat to a previously unbeaten high school basketball team.

Chester is the latest quintet to have its perfect record ruined. The District 1 champs bowed to Steel-High (Dist. 3), 84-82, Wednesday night in an overtime contest that highlighted first round action in the PIAA Class A playoffs.

Going into the Chester game, Steel-High had polished off unbeaten Conestoga Valley and Middletown in intradistrict competition. Chester put up a gallant fight, but Dennis Stewart, who finished with 39 points, sank two foul shots with 1:34 remaining in the overtime period to sew up the victory.

OTHER WINNERS

In other action across the state, Kingston, Altoona and Pittsburgh Schenley also won first round Class A interdistrict playoff games.

Williamsburg survived a first round test in Class C. Pittsburgh South Hills advanced in the PIAA (Catholic) playoffs. And Lincoln won the Philadelphia Public League Championship.

Kingston (Dist. 2) outscored Williamsport (Dist. 4) 26-8 in the fourth quarter of their eastern regional game to win 72-62. Substitute John Carey came through with 11 points to spark the late rally for Kingston, which trailed through the first three periods.

ALTOONA WINS
Dick Hock, 6-foot-10 Kingston center, scored 24 points in the second half and wound up with 32. Kingston plays Mahanoy Area (dist. 11) Saturday at Harrisburg for the right to meet Steel-High which drew a second round bye.

Altoona (Dist. 6) defeated Somerset (Dist. 5), 87-60, at Windber. Altoona took a lead of 12-10 late in the first quarter and never trailed. Dick Johnson, 5-foot-6, led Altoona scoring with 33 points.

Pittsburgh Schenley whipped Brookville, 83-54. Ken Durett was Schenley's top scorer with 30 points.

In second round action Saturday, Altoona will meet Midland, champion of the WPIAL, at the University of Pittsburgh Field House, and Schenley will play Erie Strong Vincent (Dist. 10) at Westminister.

CLASS C PLAY

In PIAA Class C play, Williamsburg downed Hyndman, 77-56, at Bedford. Bill Magarice led the Williamsburg scoring with 25 points.

In a Catholic League playoff game, Pittsburgh South Hills defeated Johnstown Bishop McCort, 80-63. Hank South was the top scorer for South Hills with 24 points. South Hills will meet Erie Cathedral Prep for the western PIAA title in Erie next Tuesday.

Larry Cannon scored 31 points to lead undefeated Lincoln to a 74-71 victory over Franklin in the Philadelphia Public League Championship game. Lincoln meets Bishop Neumann, Catholic League champion, for the city title Saturday at the Palastira.

EXPANDED RAPIDLY

"The activities of the group expanded rapidly in the fall of 1964. In early December a series of examinations were stolen by two individuals who gained entry into the academic building where examinations were stored."

It said 105 cadets admitted under questions they were involved, and 14 others were cleared.

Besides two "principals" who stole the exams, four other cadets acted as contact men "whose main function was to sell the examinations," it said. The remaining 99 were primarily involved in using or purchasing the exams.

PROBED STEALING

The Air Force said: "The investigation was confined to those cadets who were actually involved in stealing, purchasing or using examinations."

"No action has been taken against any cadet who may have known about the cheating but failed to report it. These cases will be handled according to cadet wing honor committee."

The number of cadets thus involved is not known at this time.

The Academy's honor code says cadets will not cheat or tolerate those who do.

FAIL TO LINK AF CHEATING AND FOOTBALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-level Pentagon official says while a proportionately high number of varsity football players were involved in the recent Air Force Academy cheating scandal, "it does not necessarily follow, however, that football breeds cheating."

Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance gave that view in a Feb. 18 letter to Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., who made it available to The Associated Press today.

Vance disagreed with Stratton's statement that athletic professionalism is rampant in the military academies and had a role in the cheating scandal at Colorado Springs, in which 105 cadets were forced to resign.

OFFICIAL ANSWERS

Stratton also made public official Air Force answers to a series of questions he asked more than a month ago about the scandal.

With a covering letter from Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert dated Feb. 18, the Air Force answers disclosed that cheating "on a small scale" was going on at the Air Force Academy for "at least a year prior to its discovery."

The document did not explain this reference or give details of the earlier cheating. It added:

BULLET MAT ACE ENTERS NCAA EVENTS

Joe Bavaro, Gettysburg College junior wrestling ace and 1965 Middle Atlantic Conference 157-pound champion and outstanding wrestler, will compete in the NCAA small college championships at Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colo., Friday and Saturday.

Bavaro finished the regular season with a sensational 14-0 record. His first 10 victories came via pins which set a new school record. He is currently riding on a 20 dual meet victory streak. He entered the MAC's, which were held on his home mats last weekend, with the best record of the 125 competitors. Because of his outstanding job in eliminating Russ Meredith, Delaware, 9-1; Bob Sanford, Lafayette, 11-2; and Bill Bachardy, Lycoming, 12-4, he was named the tourney's outstanding wrestler by the 19 coaches.

DROPS TO 147

Due to his fine performance he will compete in the national tournament, but he will be dropped to a 147 pounder. The last Bullet to take part in the NCAA tourney was heavyweight Mike Pacilio on March 28-29, 1959. Pacilio was eliminated in the first round of the 191-pound class at State University of Iowa. Coach Ray Reider will accompany his grappler to Colorado. Should Bavaro place over the weekend, he will then be eligible to compete in the major college division two weeks later at the University of Wyoming.

Bavaro is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Bavaro, Island Park, N. Y. The 20-year-old 5-foot 10-inch majoring in health and physical education with plans of going into the teaching and coaching profession. Bavaro also played football and lacrosse at Oceanside (N. Y.) High School.

GHS Cagers To Be Guests At Game

Gettysburg High School's varsity basketball squad, junior varsity squad, coaches, managers and school officials will be the guests of the Booster Club at the PIAA state championship game Saturday evening, March 20, in the Farm Show Arena, Harrisburg.

A block of 37 tickets for the game was received this week.

Pistons Beaten In Romp By Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The acting coach of the Boston Celtics has a sterling report for regular boss Red Auerbach today about big Bill Russell.

Auerbach was off on a scouting trip Wednesday while Russell and the Celtics romped over Detroit 124-106 and virtually ended any playoff hopes for the Pistons.

The acting coach's statistics on Russell read 25 points, 18 rebounds, five assists and seven blocked shots. An impressive line and one the acting coach will be most pleased to present to Auerbach. That's because the acting coach was Russell.

In Wednesday's other NBA action, New York ripped Philadelphia 134-123 and St. Louis thumped Cincinnati 137-113.

LOTS OF NEW FACES ALONG COACHES' ROW

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

There'll be a lot of new faces among the coaching fraternity in college basketball next season. No fewer than 10 resignations have been announced the last several weeks.

Ray Eddy, coach at Purdue University for 15 years, and Presley Askey, coach at New Mexico State for 12 years, were the latest to join the list. They announced their resignations Wednesday.

Other coaches who will not be back next season are Branch McCracken of Indiana University, Ed Jucker of the University of Cincinnati, Eddie Melvin of Toledo, Jim Williams of American University, Babe McCarthy of Mississippi State, Harlin Lawson of Georgia, Jim Nau of Idaho State and Chuck Orsborn of Bradley. Orsborn moves up to the post of director of athletics.

CAREER MAY END

They join Taps Gallagher of Niagara and Joe Lapchick of St. John's University of New York, who will retire.

That means that Lapchick's career may end tonight when his St. John's Redmen encounter Bob Cousy's Boston College Eagles in the feature of a first-round doubleheader that opens the National Invitation Tournament in New York, Texas, Western and Manhattan meet in the first game of the twinnish.

With the big boys idle awaiting the opening of the NIT and Friday's NCAA competition at four regional sites, the 27th straight victory this season for the Evansville Aces, the nation's No. 1 small-college team, highlighted Wednesday's play.

With Little All-Americans Larry Humes, 30 points, and Jerry Sloan, 27, combining for 57 points, Evansville whipped Philadelphia Textile 92-76 in the quarter-finals of the NCAA small-college championship tourney at Evansville, Ind.

3RD IN ROW

It was the 33rd in a row for the Aces who have won 53 of 56 games over a two-year span.

St. Michael's of Vermont upset Akron 101-87 in another quarter-final and goes against Evansville tonight in the semifinals. North Dakota and Southern Illinois meet in the other semi. The Sioux advanced by defeating Seattle Pacific 97-83 for their 19th straight and SIU trimmed Washington of St. Louis 76-67.

No successors to Eddy and Askey have been announced. Jim Maloney replaces Gallagher, Ken Rosemond succeeds Lawson, Joe Dan Gold replaces McCarthy, Bob Baker succeeds Jucker, Bob Nichols succeeds Melvin and Lou Carnesecca steps into Lapchick's shoes.

INDIANS BEAT HORNETS 6-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nothing is sweeter for a traded player than to hurt the team that sent him away and Springfield's Yves Locas is relishing that feeling today.

The Springfield forward, who led the American Hockey League in goals with 40 for Pittsburgh last season, returned to haunt the Hornets Wednesday night scoring two goals as the Indians whipped the Hornets 6-4.

Locas scored his goals in the first period, beating Hank Basen twice inside of seven seconds as Springfield jumped to a 4-1 lead. Pittsburgh battled back with three goals tying it but Jim Holdaway and Michel Labadie scored third period goals for the Indians to win it.

In the only other AHL game played, Len Lunde scored his 42nd goal of the year tying a Buffalo record as the Bisons ripped Hershey 5-1. Lunde, who leads the league in goals, tied the Bison club record for goals set by Gaye Stewart in 1942.

Last year the U.S. produced 1,244,000 tons of copper.

RICHIE ALLEN SAYS HE IS "BEING FAIR"

By PETE SALZBERG

Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Richie Allen, who won National League Rookie of the Year honors for the Philadelphia Phillies last season, says he thinks he is "being fair" in his salary request for the 1965 season and will not report to spring training without a contract.

"I'm asking for less than $25,000 a year and I think I'm worth it," he said in an interview Wednesday night. "I think I'm being fair about it, and I definitely won't go to Florida without a contract."

Allen denied reports that Phillies' General Manager John Quinn has increased the club's salary offer, reportedly about $17,000.

HAD 29 HOMERS

"I talked with him on the phone again today, and he hasn't made any new offers at all," Allen said. "He said he wouldn't even recommend any changes to Mr. Carpenter (Phillies' President Robert M. Carpenter)."

Last season Allen led the National League in total bases as he hit 29 home runs, drove in 91 runs, and led the Phillies in hitting with a .318 average.

OPPOSING VIEWS

"When I was in the minors they told me to wait until I got to the big leagues before I could expect to make any money," Allen has said. "Well, I made it, I had a good year and I want to get what I think I'm worth. They said I should wait some more."

Quinn says he thinks Allen is "asking too much after one year."

"I have tried to explain to Allen that consistency and experience are needed to get the kind of salary he's asking for," Quinn said. "We don't think that happens after one year."

BIG AWARD FOR SCHOLLANDER

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Schollander, 18-year-old winner of four Olympic gold medals in swimming, was selected Thursday night for the first annual "Grand Award of Sports."

The presentation of a 15-inch bronze and gold figure to the lad from Lake Oswego, Ore., was made by Col. John Glenn, the former astronaut, in a national television show by ABC.

Schollander, who was selected in January as the "Male Athlete of the Year" for 1964, in The Associated Press' 34th annual poll, was chosen in the final Grand Award voting over Jimmy Brown, of the Cleveland Browns, who had 66 points; Olympic running champion Peter Snell of New Zealand, 20; Bill Bradley, Princeton's All America basketball star, 14; and Notre Dame quarterback John Huarte, 7.

A computer was supposed to digest the judges' selections and write out the name of the winner of the over-all "Grand Award of Sports." It slowly came up with the points of the runners-up but Schollander's winning total never was announced on the program.

EVANSVILLE WINS ANOTHER

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The Evansville College Purple Aces, a small time basketball team that plays like it belongs in the big time, is trying to prove a point.

Could an NCAA college division team stand a chance against the NCAA university bracket?

This probably never will be decided, but the Aces stack up as one of the best of them all. And their Little All-America players, Jerry Sloan and Larry Humes, could play with any team in the country.

The Aces have been No. 1 in the Associated Press college poll all season, and they carry a 27-0 record into the semifinals of the NCAA college division tourney Thursday night against unranked St. Michael's of Winoski, Vt.

The Aces are bidding for their second straight NCAA college championship and an unprecedented fourth in the tournament which started here in 1957.

They also won in 1960 and 1959.

Humes scored 30 points and Sloan 27 in a 92-76 victory over 10th-ranked Philadelphia Textile in the quarter-finals Wednesday night. The card drew a crowd of 9,866 at Roberts Stadium, and all attendance records for the tourney are expected to fall before the windup Friday night.

Art Of Rescuing Downed Pilots Refined Since Korea

EDITOR'S NOTE — George McArthur, now the AP bureau chief in Manila, had for his first overseas assignment coverage of the Korean War. Now he is assigned temporarily to the Saigon staff to help cover the Vietnamese hostilities. In the following story, he makes some comparisons based on his experience.

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

BIEN HOA Airbase, South Viet Nam (AP) — A dozen years ago on Korea's bloody mountains the rescue of a downed pilot was frequently a chaotic spectacle.

While the fallen flier's mates shot up the area with whatever hardware was available, a lumbering helicopter groped its way to the scene. With luck, it snatched the pilot away — if he was still alive and if he could be located.

Frequently the mission failed. The technique was new and few chopper crews were experienced. But the hope of rescue was an unrivaled morale-booster for combat pilots.

PERFECTED SINCE

In the intervening years, the Air Force has brought the technique to almost amazing perfection. It is paying off handsomely in Viet Nam, where fliers have little faith in the uncertain mercy of the Communist Viet Cong.

During recent American and South Vietnamese air raids on the Communist North, the air-sea rescue teams gave a daring display of their new versatility.

Of six pilots shot down, five were snatched to safety in a matter of hours — three from the sea and two from the ground.

RADIO 'COPTER HELP

Finding the downed pilot no longer is a hit-or-miss question. Fliers are equipped with small homing radios. Unless the radio is shot or the pilot badly hurt, the system can bring the rescue men in almost unerringly.

The twin-rotor "Husky" helicopters used for rescue missions are armored against small-arms fire and packed with specialized equipment. One valuable item is a cable-hoist that can descend 217 feet and lift 600 pounds. It has proved itself already in Viet Nam's deep jungles, though the ride up is not recommended for the weak-hearted.

The really valuable equipment is the manpower inside the Husky.

BETTER TRAINED

The crew chief and paramedic who ride the rescue cabin have perhaps more hard technical training than any such pint-sized military force in history.

In addition to normal flight training, marksmanship and such, the paramedic is a trained parachute jumper, a field medic, an underwater scuba expert and an expert in jungle survival. Along with the crew chief he also is a trained fire fighter — handling the 1,000-pound fire fighting pod, dangling beneath the chopper, which can spew forth a special foam powerful enough to quench a white hot fire.

"We can have these missions in the air in less than two minutes," says Maj. Archie R. Taylor of Phoenix, Ariz., and Orlando, Fla., commander of Detachment 4, Pacific Air Rescue Center, at Bien Hoa airbase.

"BEATS WALKING"

The planes at Da Nang get most of the tricky missions.

Lt. Kemp Roedema of Garfield, N.J., is a case in point. The Skyraider pilot was shot down only 20 miles north of Saigon at about 9:30 one morning. He was back on the base at noon, having survived a brush with Viet Cong guerrillas almost within touching distance as he was snatched to safety.

"It beats walking," he beamed. "I wouldn't have wanted to be that paramedic who came down to get me."

PRESIDENT IS CHATTY IN CALL AT THURMONT

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — Probably no commanding officer has inspected an enlisted men's barracks the way President Johnson swept through the nation's Job Corps camp.

He wandered in and out of buildings, observed some physical training routines, poked into the mess hall to drink coffee with the boys, and bounced up and down on a dormitory bed.

Hand out-thrust, his tone chatty, the President asked for names, for hometowns, inquired into progress and often played it for laughs.

"Any of you-all takin' photography? Plenty of jobs should be open," he remarked to riotous laughter as cameras recorded eagerly his coffee-drinking session.

WANTS GOOD JOB

But the chief executive also struck a serious stance Wednesday, telling one youth after another: "A lot depends on how you fellows make out. If you make a good job of it, the Congress will go along and make a lot of training available to other fellows."

The Job Corps camp, six miles up the Catoctin Mountains from here, is the first of 77 proposed conservation centers in 33 states. It is not far from Camp David, a rustic retreat used by every president since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

URGES FAMILY CONTACT

Johnson drew on his own experiences — drifting from job to job until he decided to enroll in college — when he grabbed one young man by the arm, marched him along by his side, and proffered some paternal advice.

"Write home because when I was in California as a boy, my mother was always after me to write," he said.

To Jam Govickson, 19, a New Haven, Conn., youth who is learning how to drive heavy equipment, the President said: "If you get onto that good, you'll have to come down home and help me do some bulldozing."

Blackmon, a big fellow who sports a pearl in the pierced lobe of his right ear, beamed and replied: "Don't worry. I'll take care of you."

Newspapers Spend Millions On Plants

NEW YORK (AP) — Daily newspapers in the United States and Canada spent $108 million last year to modernize and expand plants and plan to spend another $121 million this year, the American Newspaper Publishers Association reports.

The association's annual survey of daily newspaper capital investments was released Wednesday. It showed that 739 U.S. dailies invested $98,558,928 in plant expansions in 1964 while 31 publications spent $10,059,685 in Canada.

The report said 711 newspapers, including dailies in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the West Indies, have plans to spend $121 million this year.

FAMILY STOPS WAGON TRIP TO EARN SUPPLIES

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) — Don Cunningham, his wife and two children delayed their Texas-to-Canada wagon trip Wednesday long enough to earn money for supplies.

Cunningham, 33; his wife, Shirley, 30; and their children, Anna, 3, and Will, 5, plodded into this city Tuesday in their wagon, pulled alternately by a horse and a mule.

The family left Spring Creek, Tex., three weeks ago, bound for their homestead at McBride, B.C., 3,000 miles away. They left Canada sometime ago to go to Texas and buy cattle.

But in Texas, medical bills ate up their savings and they left for Canada with only $5, supplies and a registered heifer which Cunningham hopes will be the start of a herd on his Canadian farm.

They expect to arrive at their destination in late August or early September.

BID GOVERNORS TO JOIN MEET

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Governors of neighboring states will be invited to a public hearing April 2 on whether the New York State legal drinking age should be raised from 18 to 21.

Sen. Abraham Bernstein, chairman of the Senate Excise Committee, announced plans for the hearing Wednesday night. Besides the governors, he said, representatives of the liquor industry, church groups and other interested parties will be invited.

Bernstein said a statewide referendum on the minimum drinking age was among several proposals under study.

The New York City Democrat pointed out there was no minimum-age legislation before the Senate. Gov. Rockefeller has said he would sign a bill to raise the drinking age if the legislature enacts one.

Officials in neighboring states, notably Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, have complained that youth under 21 drive from their states to New York to drink. Many, the officials say, are involved in traffic accidents on their way home.

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League baseball players get a look at two new umpires during this spring's exhibition games.

The new arbiters are Harry Wendelstedt Jr., 26, whose contract was bought last fall from the Texas League, and Bob Engel, 31, of the Pacific Coast League.

AGENCY HEARS ARGUMENTS ON CHERRY PLANS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Opponents of a proposed federal marketing order to stabilize the nation's cherry producing industry were to testify today at a federal hearing.

Growers from five states testified at Wednesday's hearing, presided over by Will Rogers, an examiner from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The growers represented Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York which, together with Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, contributed heavily to an all-time record crop of 253,000 tons last year.

Other sessions are scheduled in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Rochester, N.Y., and Gettysburg, Pa.

Recommendations from the hearings will be presented to U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman who then must put the proposal to a referendum vote of growers in all eight states to be affected.

The marketing order was proposed by the National Cherry Growers Council. Oswald E. Herkner of Traverse City, council president, testified that the 1964 price to growers of five cents per pound on cherries for processing fell below a break-even point of production costs.

The marketing order proposal provides for an advisory board to determine the maximum tonnage that can be marketed successfully in any one year in the United States and make only that amount available to processors for freezing and canning.

GOP OUTRAGED BY NEGRO VOTE FRAUD IN ALA.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders move today toward translating into legislation their call for federal action to assure Negroes the right to register and vote.

The new Republican coordinating committee said in its initial statement Wednesday it was outraged at the denial "by force and fraud" of Negro voting rights. It set a goal of assuring every citizen his constitutional rights in this field before the 1966 elections.

The coordinating group is composed of congressional leaders, governors, former presidential candidates and national committee members. It announced its support for President Johnson's course in South Viet Nam. It denounced Democratic "disruptive voices of appeasement," which it said, "undercut the President."

DIRKSEN TO CONFER

But it added: "Our task force on foreign policy shall have as one of its major objectives the examination of some of the most massive failures in foreign policy in recent American history — the consolidation of the Communist beachhead in Cuba, the expansion of Communist influence and control in Africa and the Near East, the deterioration of the Atlantic Alliance."

A task force on human rights also is to be named but Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan indicated they think the GOP civil rights position will be established firmly before it can get into operation.

Dirksen said in an interview he expects to meet with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to go over proposed drafts of voting rights legislation. He forecast introduction of a Republican bill by next Tuesday.

Ford said a House task force expects to reach agreement on a bill soon, working with Dirksen on its terms.

CAPITALISTS GET KIND WORD IN NEW DELHI

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's finance minister stood in Parliament recently, said a few kind words about capitalists and quietly resumed his seat without drawing much more than murmured protests from the leftist opposition.

Not long ago, his words would have been heresy — on both sides of the aisle — and his political career would have burned at the stake.

But nothing happened, for it no longer is political suicide in socialistic India to say a kind word or two about Indian and foreign capitalists. In fact, both are being wooed in these days of economic crisis.

TTK didn't stop there.

MOORE CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF NEW OXFORD CC

John Moore was elected president of the New Oxford Area Chamber of Commerce at the annual reorganization meeting Monday evening in the borough office. He succeeds Richard Livingston who served the last year. Bylaws prohibit a president to succeed himself.

Elected to serve with Moore were Leon Smith, vice-president; William Zeigler, secretary, and Chester Nell, treasurer.

Prior to the reorganization, members of the chamber elected four new directors, Leon Smith, James Quickel, Earl Klunk and Richard Livingston.

CRAFT SHOW JUNE 19

Tuesday, April 20, was set as the date for a Ladies' Night affair to be held at the local fire hall starting at 6:30 p.m. N. T. Washburn, chairman of this event, announced that chamber members will be admitted free with a 65-cent charge for wives.

James Quickel, art and craft show chairman, gave a detailed report of the progress on that June 19 event. Following a report from Earl Klunk, industrial development chairman, Klunk tendered his resignation because of the press of private business. The resignation was accepted with regret. A reorganization meeting of the Industrial Development Corporation will be held April 13 at which time a slate of officers will be elected.

Robert Foist, borough council member, asked that the chamber appoint representatives to attend a meeting on exploring the formation of a borough recreation commission. Paul Wagner, chamber recreation chairman, was named for that duty.

Menallen Bld. To Control Nuisances

The Menallen Twp. Board of Supervisors announces today in legal notices published in The Gettysburg Times its intention to enact ordinances prohibiting nuisances and regulating the storage of junk. Action on the measures is to be taken at a regular meeting March 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of the secretary, Clyde McCauslin.

Fines or jail terms are provided for violators of one ordinance which will prohibit nuisances "including but not limited to accumulations of garbage and rubbish and the storage of abandoned or junked automobiles on private or public property and the carrying on of any offensive business or manufacture; and to remove any nuisance or dangerous structure on public or private grounds after notice to the owner to do so."

Takes Top Honors At Livestock Show

David Feaser of Taneytown took top awards Wednesday at the Spring Eastern National Livestock Show at the Baltimore Union Stockyards.

Feaser showed the reserve champion barrow, champion 4-H FFA pair and reserve champion 4-H FFA barrow.

He also won first place in the lightweight and medium weight 4-H FFA barrows, lightweight and medium pairs of barrows and third place in heavyweight pairs of barrows.

Feaser's 190 pound reserve champion brought 90 cents a pound at the show sale, in which 239 hogs from four states competed. Esskay Meat Products of Baltimore purchased the hog.

Federal Judge

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

There were these other developments on the Alabama racial scene:

1. Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, announced the arrest of three white men on charges of beating three white Unitarian ministers who came to Selma to participate in the civil rights drive. Baker identified those arrested as William Stanley Hoggie, 36; R. B. Kelley, 30, and Elmer Cook, 41. Baker said a warrant has been issued for a fourth man.

2. About 350 civil rights demonstrators slept in the streets of Selma in 40-degree weather in a vigil for one of the beaten ministers, the Rev. James Ray, 38, of Boston, who lay near death in a Birmingham hospital. It was the first nighttime demonstration in Selma in the almost eight weeks since the right-to-vote campaign began in this rich farm soil area known as the Black Belt. The vigil grew out of a night march which along with an earlier one was halted by Mayor Joe Smithman and state police.

RAIN ENDS MARCH

3. A cold rain brought an abrupt end to a demonstration in Montgomery by about 125 civil rights marchers before the Capitol building. Earlier, about 1,000 demonstrators tried to get into the Capitol to see Wallace, but were kept out by police. A homemade fire bomb was thrown onto a Negro house but was extinguished with little damage.

4. Former Florida Gov. Le Roy Collins, a personal representative of President Johnson, canceled a scheduled speech at the University of Florida and flew back to Selma, where he hoped to talk with white and Negro leaders today.

RELEASED ON BAIL

Baker said Hoggie and Cook were released from city jail on bond of $7,500 each on charges of assault with intent to murder. They were taken immediately into custody by FBI agents on federal warrants charging conspiracy to violate the ministers' civil rights.

Taken before U.S. Commissioner Marian House for an after midnight arraignment, the men again were released, but this time on $5,000 bonds.

Kelley remained in city jail. If he makes bond he will be arraigned on the federal charge and another bond set.

The men were charged with beating Ray, the Rev. Orloff F. Miller, 25, of Boston, and the Rev. Clark Olson, 32, of Berkeley, Calif. The other two ministers escaped serious injury.

to do so."

The other measure, violators of which also will face fines or jail terms, regulates the "storage and accumulation of junk, providing for the issuance of licenses for junk dealers and for the maintenance and operation of junk yards under prescribed conditions."

224 STUDENTS DONATE BLOOD TO RED CROSS

With an assist from the coeds at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, students at Mount Saint Mary's were able to exceed their previous record of 224 pints of blood donated to the American Red Cross Bloodmobile by setting a new record of 235 pints, according to Francis X. Ligorano, student union director.

The annual visit of the bloodmobile was held at the Cogan Union on March 9 under the auspices of the student union board committee headed by junior economics major, Joseph W. Sheehan, Ft. Edward, N.Y.

In addition to the collegians and seminarians donating blood to the project, 24 young ladies from St. Joseph College plus several faculty members and townspeople aided the setting of the new record.

Of the blood donated there were five pints of O negative which will be used in a case of open heart surgery in Washington, D.C., shortly, according to James Grove, Frederick postmaster and director of the bloodmobile program in the county. Mr. Grove stated that the students at the area colleges, Mt. St. Mary's, St. Joseph's and Hood College, have demonstrated in a "positive" and "negative" way their sense of community responsibility in making the county, their families and friends and those whose very lives depend on such generosity safer and healthier. "For the third consecutive year they have earned the commendation of the community and in particular the respect of the doctors and staff of the bloodmobile," he added.

C. A. Wills

The West St. branch bank was opened in 1961, and in 1963, the Gettysburg National merged with the Biglerville National Bank to provide increased banking facilities in the Upper Adams area.

COPPER COMPANY

A native of Adams County, Mr. Wills was one of the county's pioneer industrialists. Prior to World War I he formed the Virgin Copper Company in Hamiltonban Twp., which developed into one of the most successful copper mining operations in the county. A few years later he originated the Advance Industrial Supply Company to manufacture roofing granules. Both of these firms were dissolved with the formation of the Blue Ridge Pipe and Nipple Company in 1928 with a plant at Greentown. The company manufactures plumbing fittings and maintains a warehouse in Palmdale, Ala., near Birmingham.

The Gettysburg National Bank was founded in May, 1814, the first banking institution in Adams County, and was known as the "Bank of Gettysburg." The land on which the present building is located was conveyed by John and William Penn in 1787 to James Gettys, one of the original directors of the bank, who later sold it to William G. McPherson, a bank director from 1819 to 1824. The land was purchased by the bank from John B. McPherson. In 1864 the Bank of Gettysburg became the Gettysburg National Bank.

Mr. Wills served as president of the bank longer than anyone else in its 151-year history.

Girl Scout News

Junior Troop 965, Mrs. Kenneth Dayhoff, leader, met Wednesday afternoon in St. James Lutheran Church to discuss plans for a spring trip and a rummage and food sale Saturday, April 10, beginning at 7:30 a.m. in the basement of the Adams County National Bank building, Lincoln Square.

Senior Aides Linda Rudisill and Ellen Musser conducted relay races between the troop patrols. Scouts are reminded to remit registration dues next Wednesday, final day for payment.

St. Francis Xavier Cadette Girl Scout Troop 786 met Tuesday afternoon in Xavier Hall. In place of a regular meeting, they visited the Gettysburg National Museum in observance of Citizenship Day. Mrs. George Rosensteel arranged a showing of the Electric Map for the troop.

After viewing the map and Civil War relics, light refreshment was served by the troop's hostess, Pamela Eckert. Miss Eckert is the granddaughter of George Rosensteel, founder of the museum. Accompanying the Scouts were: Mrs. Lawrence Eckert Jr., Mrs. Romeo Capozzi and Mrs. Hallette Harding.

ditions a kitchen truck might not be used more than once or twice a year, the committee members decided to determine how far afield the Salvation Army truck would be expected to go, believing that if full use were to be obtained from such a vehicle it would have to serve more than the Adams County area.

Francis Smith and John Codori were appointed delegates from the local fire department to the state firemen's association convention.

$1,000 IN PRIZES

The report of the 102nd battle anniversary committee presented by Chairman Martin Crabill showed $1,000 will be given in prizes for the annual parade July 1 and that a special Kiddies' Night will be held at the firemen's festival on Tuesday evening, June 29. Tickets at reduced rates will be sold in advance for rides for kiddies up to age 12.

Plans were announced for a meeting of the special events committee of the anniversary committee Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Chairman William G. Weaver.

He also announced that the annual solicitation for funds will start May 3.

GET NEW STRETCHER

Glenn Weishaar, chairman of the Ambulance Corps, reported the balance in the new ambulance fund is $10,865.25. During the last month, he said, $110 was spent for a new type metal stretcher to be used to move patients who have suffered broken backs or similar injuries without the need to lift them onto the stretcher. The apparatus is so designed that it can be slipped under the patient and locked in order to provide support for the whole body before the patient is moved.

Weishaar read a letter from Dr. Bruce N. Wolff inviting ambulance drivers to attend the showing of a film on cardiac resuscitation at the hospital March 29. He said efforts are being made to show the film also at the ambulance drivers' course now underway Tuesday nights.

President Ohler discharged the ladies' night banquet committee with "the thanks of the entire fire department."

MEMBER RESIGNS

A brief discussion was held on the fire company bylaws which prohibits the fire department from making donations to any organization or individual. The group seemed agreed there should be no change from the present system. Treasurer William DeHaas noted: "The people give us this money to be used for fire purposes — not to be given to others, no matter how worthy. We are handling public funds given for a particular purpose."

The resignation of Ralph J. Kessel because he has moved to Bendersville was accepted.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association will be held April 5 at Bonneville.

Named to the duty roster for the April meeting were Harvey Bollinger, Ronald J. Bowers, John A. Bowling, Ray Breighner, Thomas Brown and Thomas Carr.

CORRECTION

In the listing of petitions for places on the ballot printed Wednesday it was incorrectly stated that John E. Trostle is a Democratic candidate for tax collector in York Springs. The name should be Joan E. Trostle. In the list for Hamiltonban Twp. it was incorrectly stated that Harold R. Deardorff is a candidate for township auditor and school director. He is a candidate for township auditor and school auditor.

190,000 Families In Need Of Homes

LONDON (AP) — A government housing committee said today about 190,000 London families are in urgent need of new and better living quarters.

The committee set up by the previous Conservative government told of one case in which 85 persons live in a building originally constructed as six apartments. Nearly every room was occupied by a family.

STEAL OIL PAINTINGS

RAGUSA, Italy (AP) — Thieves have stolen an estimated $100,000 worth of old paintings and archeological treasures from the Sicilian castle of Parisian Count Gaetano de L'Estrade.

The burglary was discovered Wednesday by the caretaker of the castle 40 miles outside Ragusa.

YANK 'COPTER DOWN; FOUR CREWMEN HURT

By GEORGE McARTHUR
DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Marine Corps helicopter crashed and burned today 30 miles south of Da Nang, injuring four crewmen aboard.

Details were lacking, but it was presumed Viet Cong gunfire downed the craft.

The chopper, from a company which had been in Viet Nam several weeks, was believed on a supply mission to Vietnamese troops operating against the Communists in a valley south of Da Nang.

A Marine officer said three of the injured men were taken to the field hospital at Nha Trang and the fourth was brought here for treatment. The latter's injuries were said to be less serious.

KILLED BY GRENADE
Viet Cong guerrillas Wednesday night lobbed a grenade or mortar shell into a Vietnamese position about eight miles northwest of the strategic Da Nang Air Base. One Vietnamese soldier was killed and two were wounded.

The action took place about three miles from the northwest outer perimeter of the defense zone set up by U.S. Marines who ended this week to protect the air base.

In Saigon, the South Vietnamese Interior Ministry released the names of 385 persons it said had signed a recent resolution sponsored by a so-called "Peace Movement Committee."

DECEIVE PUBLIC

The names were published following a cabinet decision to curb the activities of such committees, which it termed pro-Communist movements to misguide and deceive the public.

The government said it would deport a number of persons involved to North Viet Nam.

A ranking U.S. military spokesman said he feels the military situation throughout South Viet Nam has improved considerably in the past few weeks, particularly in mountainous Binh Dinh Province.

The Mekong Delta south of Saigon has been quiet for weeks after intense Viet Cong activity earlier in the winter.

for several more weeks.

WILL TO LIVE

"He had a strong will to live, and was an extremely cooperative patient," the spokesman said. "But the severity and extent of the burns proved too much."

His wife, Mrs. Louise Flatley, and one of his brothers were at his bedside when he died.

He also is survived by three other brothers, four children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Flatley of Buffalo, N. Y. He was a Korean War veteran and had been employed at a chemical plant in North Tonawanda, a Buffalo suburb, before moving here to become a foreman at the Seven Stars plant.

He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here, and last Sunday a collection was taken at the church for the family.

The Gettysburg Times, upon request of the family, accepted voluntary contributions toward a fund to help defray expenses of what was expected to be a long period of treatment and convalescence.

The following new members were introduced: Mrs. Paul Ritter, Mrs. William Richardson III, Mrs. Horace Hemingway, Mrs. Richard Brendle, New Oxford, and associate member Mrs. Kevin McCans, Dintance, O. Mrs. Chan Coulter and Mrs. Gerald Mitson were introduced as guests.

Mrs. Brown announced a change in the April and May programs. The next meeting will be under the direction of Mrs. George Fair, chairman of the Fine Arts Department, and will open with a tour of the art center on Lincoln Square, returning to the YWCA for the business meeting. This was originally planned to be held in May. The May meeting will be under the direction of Miss Margaret Sanders, international affairs chairman, with Mrs. John S. Rice, as the speaker. Mrs. Lloyd Gilbert and Mrs. Brown presided at the tea table which bore an arrangement of white flowers and green candles. The St. Patrick's theme was carried out in the refreshments. Approximately 50 women attended.

Use Saucer Around The Ball As Target Spot In All Traps

By KEN VENTURI
U.S. Open Champion

Sand is a frightening word to the high handicap player, and to many high scorers. Once in a sand trap they think of just one thing — getting out. They don't care if they push the ball out or knock it clear across the green. Just so they get out.

That's why sand traps were put on golf courses — to penalize the scared player.

There is a real art to playing out of traps, but if you're good with irons you shouldn't fear the sand.

People who fear traps often try to avoid them by leaving themselves 40 and 50-foot putts. Now this is the wrong theory on how to play golf and save strokes because many times a 40-foot putt is tough to lag up to the hole and you'll find yourself three-putting.

The sand trap shot is the only one in golf where you do NOT keep your eye on the ball. You look at the spot in the sand where you want the clubhead to make its first contact.

In most traps you will have a cuppy lie and this forms a dish or saucer around the ball. If you're in soft sand the saucer will be larger. In hard sand the saucer will be smaller.

Most pros say "hit two inches behind the ball." I say hit at the outside rim of the saucer closest to your back foot, with the blade open. Be sure to take a firm follow through.

The blade is open so that it can go through the sand which in turn gets the ball out. Do this properly and you will find your trap shots stopping just about where the ball lands.

Now in buried lies the ball comes out without any spin, comes out faster and runs further. You can prevent this from happening by closing the face of the club and hitting closer to the ball so that the front of the ball hits sand, preventing it from taking off. But you must follow through on this exacting shot. You dig on this shot but hit closer to the ball to prevent the blade from bouncing off the hard sand.

When you walk into a bunker you should take a stance a bit wider than usual. Dig your feet firmly into sand to avoid slipping. Play the ball slightly forward and make sure the hands are ahead of the clubface. There is very little break at the top of the backswing but you hold the break so that the clubhead never passes the hands.

Don't be a digger. By that I mean don't throw the club at the ball and stop. You must follow through because the ball stays on the club or outside the sand twice as long as in any other golf shot. That's because the ball is coming out softer and slower.

One requisite is a good bunker club, one with a lot of loft, and it must have more swing-weight than any other club in your bag. It must have a big flange at the bottom to prevent it from digging into the sand.

So don't just try to get out of a bunker. Try to get the ball close to the hole and on occasion even try to make the shot drop because good bunker play is a big part of low scoring, even for the pros.

TAX EXPERTS URGE CHANGE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton has before him recommendations by a special committee of tax experts that the Department of Revenue be reorganized.

The voluntary committee, appointed by the governor, said Tuesday the department should not be involved in motor vehicle licensing, traffic safety or institutional collections.

A proposal has been offered in the current session of the general assembly calling for the bureau of motor vehicles and traffic safety to be taken out of the Revenue Department. The bill, now in committee, has not received the backing of the Scranton Administration.

The governor's committee on tax administration, in releasing its recommendations, emphasized its concern was solely with the administration of state taxes paid by business.

Goal of the study was to learn ways to further increase Pennsylvania's attractiveness to new and expanding business and industry, the governor's office said.

USING THE SAND WEDGE

SAND TRAPS were put on golf courses to scare the high handicap players. Here Open champion Ken Venturi shows the 100-plus shooter how he can cut strokes off his score. Rather than aim for the ball (inset) Venturi's first contact with the sand will be the edge of the saucer behind the ball. (1) He takes a firm stance. (2) Venturi, head down, has made a firm contact with the clubface still open. (3) Even with his hands waist high, Venturi still holds a strong position with his left foot. His head comes up only after his hands go above his waist on a full follow through.

Plan Youth Center At Wilkes-Barre

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor plans to establish a Youth Opportunity Center in Wilkes-Barre with a staff of 15 employees.

Wilkes-Barre will be one of 78 cities designated for a center under a program administered by the Federal Bureau of Employment Security and the State Employment Service.

The U.S. Labor Department's regional office here Wednesday released a statement by Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz saying that the Wilkes-Barre center would serve 27,900 young people between the ages of 16 and 21. Wirtz' announcement reiterated that the center would serve all youth, with emphasis on the disadvantaged.

One requisite is a good bunker club, one with a lot of loft, and it must have more swing-weight than any other club in your bag. It must have a big flange at the bottom to prevent it from digging into the sand.

So don't just try to get out of a bunker. Try to get the ball close to the hole and on occasion even try to make the shot drop because good bunker play is a big part of low scoring, even for the pros.

GANG FIGHT IS BROKEN UP

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 16-year-old boy was cornered by a police dog and apprehended by a policeman Wednesday after the team broke up an impending gang fight just outside an elevated subway station.

The police dog, named Sherlock, and patrolman George Wallrath chased about 34 Negro youths from outside the 56th Street elevated station. About 24 fled in one direction, 10 in another, police said. Sherlock cornered the youth against a parked auto.

Mayor James H. J. Tate and Police Commissioner Howard Leary had ordered the use of dogs to help beef up subway and elevated patrols in an attempt to prevent violence similar to last Saturday's attack on a 15-year-old girl by a gang of eight youths.

Teams of one policeman and one dog are riding subway-elevated trains. Similar teams are making surprise checks at various stations.

IDEAS PAY OFF
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today it awarded $263,610 to its employees last year for ideas submitted under the company's suggestion program.

The top award went to Edward Brehony, a welder at the company's Lester plant. He was paid $5,503 for proposing a new welding method for steam chest and valve assemblies.

THREE SMALL CHILDREN DIE IN HOME FIRE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three small children perished and a fourth was seriously burned in a fire that swept a second floor bedroom of their home in the North Central section of the city.

The victims of Wednesday's blaze were the children of Mrs. Pauline Allen, 29. Mrs. Allen was scheduled to return home from a hospital within an hour after the fire occurred. She had recently given birth to her eighth child.

Pronounced dead at St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center were John Allen, 3, and sisters Dina, 4, and Kim, 2.

ONE GIRL RESCUED
A third sister, Abbey, 5, was rescued from the flames by a neighbor and a Philadelphia Electric Co. employee. She was listed in fair condition at Episcopal Hospital with second and third degree burns of the back and arms.

Fire officials said the victims had been under the care of an older child, Brenda, 13. The two other Allen children were living with Mrs. Allen's sister, Mrs. Mary Warren, 32, who lives a few doors away.

Officials said the older child left the home for her aunt's house, and said she was going to the home of another relative a few blocks away. They said Mrs. Warren was about to go to her sister's home to check on the four young children when a neighbor, John Biggs saw smoke coming from the home.

Biggs broke down the front door and attempted to get upstairs but was driven back by the flames. He and the unidentified Electric Co. employee then took an extension ladder from the company truck and managed to rescue Abbey from the second floor window.

Firemen found the other three Allen children dead under the bed.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Naval Shipyard received a presidential citation Wednesday for its efforts in saving the government more than $27 million during the fiscal year ended June 30 in the elimination of overhead and the use of less costly materials.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joseph P. McNally, 50, has been arrested on gambling charges as a result of a gambling raid in the Kensington section Wednesday, city police said. They said the raid interrupted a $50,000-a-day gambling operation, which they said was headed by McNally.

OPEN LIBRARY BIDS
HARRISBURG (AP) — The General State Authority received unofficial low bids totaling $1,693,059 Wednesday for construction of a new library at Millersville State College.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. P. M. MacPHERSON

RANDOM NOTES AND SOME NEEDED BOOKS
The Adams County Free Library is somewhat limited in books pertaining to the history of York and Adams Counties, Pennsylvania. Prowell's "History of York County" (two volumes), and Gibson's history of the same, should be included in their collection. Also, John T. Riley's early directory — and there should be quite a few of these in existence. If, by any chance, readers of this column should have any of the above mentioned volumes or others pertaining to the background of this section they would prove a valuable addition to the research division of the library.

The genealogical notes on the Little (or Klein) family, pioneer settlers in the Conewago Settlement, are continued at this time.

26. Adams Sentinel, Monday, May 28, 1838 —

"Married, Monday, May 21, 1838, by the Rev. Charles G. McLean, of this County, Mr. John Little to Miss Harriet Guinn, both of this borough (Gettysburg)."

Note:—The Guinn family was in the main, members of the Associate Reformed (Presbyterian) Church and their graves were among those moved to the Evergreen Cemetery, late in the 19th century, from the old churchyard on West High Street (now the U. B. Church). This was the first church built in Gettysburg and the burial ground lay in front of the edifice and at the back.

Several members of the Guinn family are also interred back of the old Methodist church (now the GAR Post Room), in Gettysburg. It is interesting to note that this is the only churchyard remaining in the town.

27. Monday, November 11, 1839 —

"Married, Wednesday, October 30, 1839, by the Rev. Samuel Gutelius, of this place, Mrs. Francis Mullet to Miss Elizabeth Catharine Little — both of this borough (Gettysburg)."

28. Monday, December 2, 1839 —

"Married, November 21, 1839, by the Rev. Jacob Bear, of this County, Mr. John Straley to Miss Maria Little, both of Mountjoy Township, this County."

29. Monday, December 16, 1839 —

"Married, December 13th, 1839, by the Rev. Benjamin Keller, of this County, Mr. Daniel Little to Miss Ann Elizabeth McPherson, both of Emmitsburg, Maryland."

30. Monday, May 11, 1840 —

"Died, in Littlestown, this County, on May 1st, 1840, Miss Eliza Little, in the 13th year of her age."

31. Monday, June 8, 1840 —

"Died, May 28th, 1840, Miss Elizabeth Little, of Menallen Township, this County. Aged 33 years and 3 days."

32. Monday, June 29, 1840 —

"Died, Wednesday evening, June 23, 1840, after a lingering illness, Mr. Peter Little, of Mountjoy Township, this County, in the 51st year of his age."

Note:—Probably a grandson of the founder of Littlestown, Adams County, Pennsylvania — the given name carried on to the third generation.

33. Monday, October 26, 1840 —

"Married, October 22, 1840, by the Rev. Benjamin Keller of this County, Mr. Henry Garlach to Miss Catharine P. Little, both of this place (Gettysburg)."

34. Monday, May 31, 1841 —

"Married, Thursday morning, May 27, 1841, by the Rev. Samuel Gutelius, of this County, Mr. George Wampler of this borough (Gettysburg), to Miss Elizabeth L. Little, the daughter of Mr. Peter Little, deceased, of Mountjoy Township, this County."

Note:—The father of the bride, in this case, died less than a year before his daughter's wedding took place. Elizabeth (Little) Wampler was probably a great-granddaughter of the founder of Littlestown, this County.

35. Monday, August 9, 1841 —

"Married at Hanover, York County, Pennsylvania, on Thursday, August 5th, 1841, by the Rev. Jacob Albert, Mr. Jacob Rummell to Miss Julia Ann Little, both of Gettysburg, Pa."

36. Monday, September 6, 1841 —

"Married, Thursday, September 2nd, 1841, by the Rev. J. Weyl, of this borough (Gettysburg), Mr. William Funt, of Whitestown (now Idaville), Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Eliza Little, of Dickinson Township, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania."

37. Monday, February 7th, 1842 —

"Died, Thursday evening, February 3, 1842, Mr. Henry Little (Coach-maker) of this borough (Gettysburg), in the 47th year of his age. He has left a large family to mourn his loss."

38. Monday, March 23, 1842 —

"Died, May 16, 1842, Miss Catharine Little of this place (Gettysburg), aged 72 years, 7 months, and 8 days."

39. Monday, August 29, 1842 —

"Married, August 15th, 1842, by the Rev. Dr. L. R. DeJoul, Mr. Joseph A. Owings, of McSherrystown, this County, to Miss Mary Elizabeth Little, the daughter of the late Thomas J. Little, of Baltimore, Maryland."

40. Monday, September 19, 1844 —

"Married, Thursday evening, September 15, 1844, by the Rev. Samuel Gutelius, of this County, Mr. Daniel Weaver to Miss Rebecca Little, the daughter of Mr. Henry Little, deceased, all of this borough (Gettysburg)."

41. Monday, January 2, 1843 —

"Married, December 23rd, 1842, by the Rev. Benjamin Keller, of this County, Mr. John Yetts to Mrs. Lydia Little, both of Mountjoy Township, this County."

This concludes, for a time at least, the date on the Little (or Klein) family of this County.

The notes on the family burial grounds, in Frederick and Carroll Counties, Maryland, and their relationship to the human background in the study of history, in both Maryland and Pennsylvania, will be resumed in this series next week.

40 Hogs Killed In Turnpike Crash

WILLOW HILL, Pa. (AP)—Two tractor-trailers collided on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Wednesday, killing some 40 hogs that were being transported in one of the vehicles.

One of the truck drivers, George M. Pink, 62, of York, was hospitalized at the Fulton County Medical Center at McConnellsburg where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

State police said Pink's truck ran into the rear of one driven by James Henry King Jr., 35, of Monticello, Ind. The mishap occurred in the eastbound lanes of the turnpike three miles west of the Kittanning Tunnel.

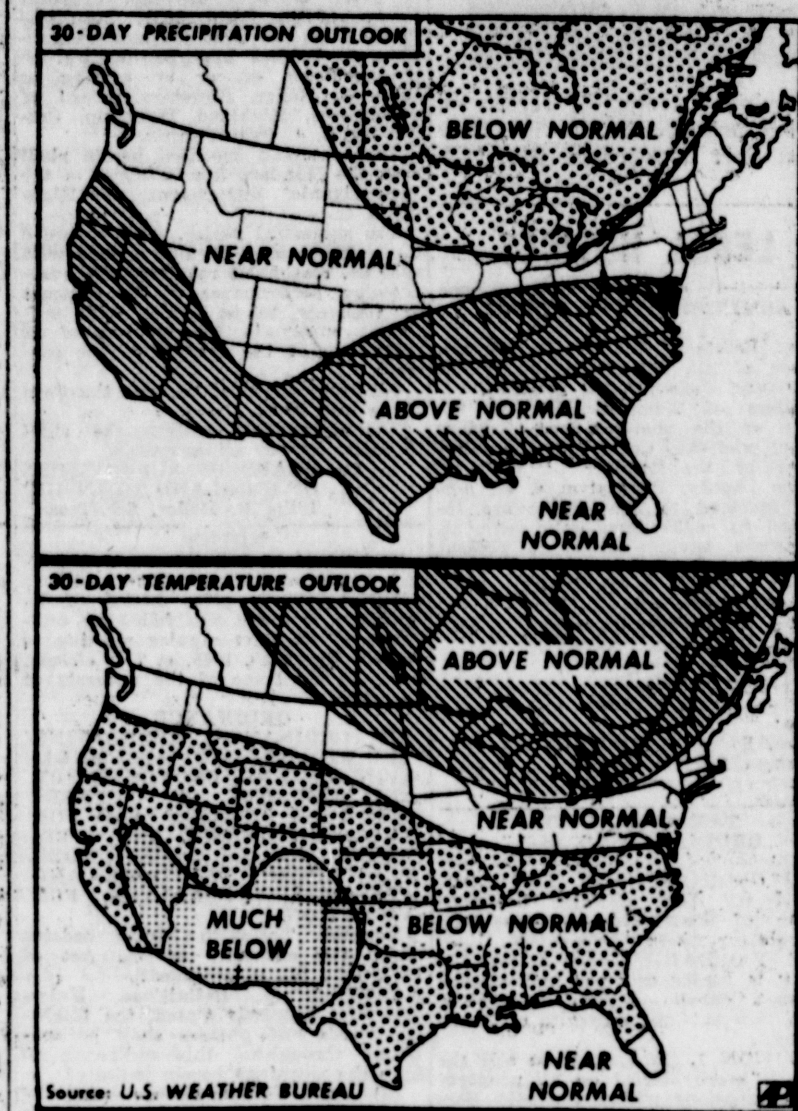

"Liberty Bell" To Be Sent To Fair

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Governors Committee of 100,000 Pennsylvanians for the Promotion of Economic Growth plans to acquire a bronze replica of the Liberty Bell for exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

M. George Mooradian, executive director of the committee, and Arthur C. Kaufmann, Philadelphia civic leader, flew to Geneva, Switzerland, Wednesday night to arrange for casting of the bell. They planned to visit a bell foundry in Annecy-le-Vieux, a small French town near the Swiss border.

The U.S. armed forces operate 215 radio stations.

American flags were presented to two Girl Scout troops, 789 and 752, Xavier School, Monday evening by the Ladies of the GAR, Circle 227. Shown at the presentation are, from the left, Mrs. Amanda Walker, Mrs. Florence Breneman and Mrs. Regina Staley. Miss Grace Myers, adviser to Troop 789, is shown receiving the flags with Patrol Leader Diane Auchter. Scout Joann Schriver is standing in front of Mrs. Mahlon P. Hartzell Jr., leader of Troop 752. James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama's segregationist governor, George Wallace, did it again.

Twice, confronted with civil rights problems, he went to extremes, once with President Kennedy and now with the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Both times he brought national embarrassment on his state. He tried defiance with Kennedy. It was an empty gesture. He couldn't win, and he didn't.

TRIED DEFIANCE AGAIN

He tried defiance again with King who planned a march of 450 Negroes from Selma to Montgomery, 50 miles, as a civil rights demonstration.

The purpose, when they reached Montgomery, was to petition Wallace to remove obstacles to the Negroes' right to vote in Alabama.

The end-product of Wallace's defiance was a disgraceful, brutal police action — the chasing and beating of the Negroes — which shocked the nation.

NOT VERY SHREWD

Yet, if Wallace had used a little shrewdness, the march might have accomplished little.

King's non-violent expedition was to be a gesture to enlist national sympathy and attention.

The police action couldn't have won the Negroes more sympathy and attention if King had planned it. He says he never expected what happened.

When he was sworn in as governor in 1963, Wallace pledged "segregation forever." He knew he couldn't make good on it.

HE MELTED AWAY

That would have meant defying the federal government and courts. If he could get away with it, anyone could, and the result would be chaos.

Nevertheless, when federal courts ordered the University of Alabama desegregated, he put on a "standing in the school-house door" act.

This was supposed to be defiance of the court, Kennedy called the Alabama National Guard into federal service and Wallace melted away.

Wallace had two choices when King announced the Selma-Montgomery journey.

40 NEGROES HURT

He could have permitted it, and even helped it, or he could smash it with police swinging nightsticks. He chose police and clubs. About 40 Negroes were hurt.

Fifty miles add up to a long march, not to be done in a day. Before it started Wallace could have figured:

Long before the Negro men and women reached Montgomery their ranks would have been thinned by drop-outs.

OTHER CHOICES OPEN

And he could have deprived the marchers of drama by sending along police, not to smash the march but to guide traffic along the highway and protect Negroes from segregationist attacks.

King was supposed to lead the march but stayed in Atlanta, an act which must puzzle Negroes, particularly those who expected to see him up front.

But he said he would lead a second march today. This, thanks to Wallace and the police, would be against a different background.

CONGRESS OUTRAGED

From several states, scores of clergymen headed for Alabama to take part in today's journey.

Several members of Congress expressed outrage over Sunday's brutality, with a Southerner, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., saying: "Shame on you, George Wallace."

And outrage at this time in Congress is bad news for segregationists.

The Johnson administration, heeding Negroes' demands, is preparing to send Congress a voting bill to give Negroes far more access to the polls.

WILKINS REACTION

Perhaps the most disturbing reaction, considering the source, came from Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which practices the non-violence King preaches.

He said he had asked President Johnson for troops, if necessary, to protect Negroes in Alabama, adding: "The terrible alternative" would be the organization of a Negro underground to fight back.

And Monday night policemen had to drag and shove about a score of civil rights demonstrators to get them away from outside the office of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach in the Justice Department. They had refused to leave the building after closing time.

They were Negro and white youths demanding federal protection for Negroes in Alabama.

TORONTO (AP) — Mrs. George Drew, 53, wife of Canada's former high commissioner (ambassador) to Great Britain and a patron of the arts, died Tuesday of cancer.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Jimmy Murphy, 72, former cartoonist who did the comic strip "Toots and Casper" for King Features, died Tuesday. He had been ill for 10 years.

STEEL TALKS MOVE AHEAD TO BIG ISSUES

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Basic steel negotiators moved quickly today to settle plant-level complaints so they could get down to the major issues of wages and job security.

Separate negotiating sessions between the United Steelworkers Union and the "Big 11" steel producers resumed Tuesday after a two-month recess forced by the union's still unresolved election.

Many of these meetings, which each involved scores of people, broke up Wednesday into smaller groups.

TOUGH TALKS AHEAD

This signaled the start of tough, head-to-head bargaining on local complaints, a vital issue this year since the union says it won't sign a contract unless they are settled.

Closing out of the "big meeting" phase underscored the eagerness of both sides to reach agreement on a new contract before the May 1 strike deadline.

It was still too early, however, for either side to assess the situation. None of the top negotiators for either side would comment on the possibility of a quick settlement.

Men Of All Walks Speak Out For Stronger Federal Laws To Protect Selma Marchers

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

More protest demonstrations were held in cities across the nation over the situation in Selma, Ala., with increasing demands for federal intervention.

As thousands marched in sympathy with the drive by Alabama Negroes for voting rights, governors, senators and church groups spoke out Wednesday.

There were demands for stronger law-enforcement protection in the wake of the attack in Selma on three white ministers.

One of those clubbed, the Rev. James A. Reeb, 38, of Boston, was in critical condition in a Birmingham hospital.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, threatened a massive march on Washington unless President Johnson endorses new voting rights legislation and sends federal officers into Alabama by Sunday.

Soon after returning from Selma, Farmer told a New York news conference: "I am certainly charging that President Johnson has not been forceful enough."

The latest demonstrations were held in San Francisco, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Cambridge, Mass.; Madison, Wis.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Joliet, Ill., and in front of the White House.

The National Council of Churches called a meeting for Friday of religious leaders from across the country. The gathering will be at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation in Washington.

"Now is the time for all religious leaders to come together to follow up on the upsurge of American conscience," said Dr. J. Oscar Lee, associate executive director of the council's commission on religion and race.

Demonstrations at the federal building in Los Angeles resulted in 90 arrests, including 29 persons who were charged with obstruction of U.S. mail after they lay down in front of mail trucks and were forcibly removed. The building was closed early.

Leslie N. Shaw, Negro postmaster of Los Angeles, criticized the demonstrations.

Harry Bridges, West Coast longshoremen's union leader, told 1,500 persons at a San Francisco rally that his 65,000 union members would "refuse to handle any goods or merchandise from Alabama until the rights of all the people of Alabama are recognized and fully protected."

Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles spoke from the Madison Capitol steps to praise more than 100 Beloit College students who had marched 50 miles in two days from their campus to show that Wisconsin citizens have the "freedom to demonstrate freely."

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York told a civil rights meeting in a Washington church that he deplored "the ruthless denial of the most fundamental and precious right of every American, the right to vote."

LONDON (AP) — Eric Newton, 71, distinguished art critic and historian, died Wednesday. Newton was art critic of the Manchester Guardian and of the Sunday Times.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Benjamin N. Kane, 77, builder of a far-flung business empire and a leader in Jewish and cultural activities in Providence, died Wednesday at his winter home in Miami Beach, Fla.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Ralph A. Gallagher, S.J., 69, sociologist and educator, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

RESIGNATIONS BRING PROTEST FROM PUPILS

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The resignations of University of California President Clark Kerr and Martin Meyerson, acting chancellor of the Berkeley campus, rallied support today for the top administrators of the restless college community.

Kerr, 53, head of the university's nine campuses, indicated Wednesday he had taken the "dramatic step" in response to recent "obscenity" rallies that he said perverted freedom into "license for hard-core pornography."

The rallies on campus have been outdoor sessions in which a handful of students shouted obscene phrases and four-letter words and displayed obscene words on placards.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said, "The four-letter word was the last word in causing the resignations." But neither administrator has given a clear explanation of his action.

The emergency executive committee of Berkeley's academic senate, a faculty group, said Tuesday night the administrators' resignations came at a time when the campus was "establishing sound and workable policies in the area of political expression."

"We are convinced," the statement added, "President Kerr and Chancellor Meyerson should be asked to continue in office."

The faculty of the University's Medical School campus in San Francisco Wednesday unanimously passed a resolution "urging the regents to refuse to accept (Kerr's) proposed resignation."

The students' legislative body unanimously urged Meyerson to stay on and by a 13-6 vote asked the same of Kerr.

At UCLA the student legislative council urged Kerr to remain on the job and individual students began circulating petitions to the same end.

Special Home Devices Let Handicapped Mother Work

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Like women the world over, a young Connecticut housewife rises bright and early each day, sends her husband off to work, tends to the baby and then sets about her regular chores—cleaning, washing, ironing, cooking, even mending.

Remarkable? Indeed, it is, for this particular housewife is a victim of polio and her right side is completely paralyzed. Yet she is just one of 100 similarly handicapped women who have been restored to their families and to useful productive lives through a five-year pilot rehabilitation study sponsored by the University of Connecticut.

More important, experience lends new hope for the rehabilitation of some 4 million similarly handicapped homemakers in the U.S. — women who are hemiplegics, arthritics, victims of tuberculosis, those with cardiovascular diseases and those orthopedically disabled.

PRACTICAL MOTIVATION

Motivation behind the work was both practical and humanitarian. "These disabled homemakers present a serious social and economic problem," explains Dr. Mary E. Switzer, U.S. commissioner of vocational rehabilitation. "A homemaker's disability can destroy a home, cast children adrift and exhaust the husband's earnings."

Initially, Dr. May and her associates cataloged the various, sometimes ingenious, methods of home and child care that the 100 handicapped women had devised on their own.

SPECIAL WORK AREAS

Special low-down sinks and ironing boards were devised to provide built-in knee room for wheelchairs. Playpens were raised and equipped with gates to facilitate child care.

The researchers found can openers that could be operated with one hand. They devised special work centers for the afflicted. They rearranged while kitchens. And they went one step further.

"It is not a matter of buying gadgets to suit the disability," says Dr. May. "It is a problem of management, of adjusting family goals to suit family resources."

From their five years of study, Dr. May and her associates came up with these salient conclusions:

1. In spite of devastating disabilities, women with physical handicaps can be rehabilitated to resume at least some measure of independence.
2. It is a long, slow process that requires the cooperation of the patient, the family and all the professional workers concerned.
3. There is no easy formula; it is an individual problem that must be worked out in the patient's own home.

Make a head start on getting warm weather clothing ready for wear. Garments that have been stored may need freshening before they can be used.

As you remove garments from storage, check them for tears, holes, snags and loose buttons. Mend and repair all damaged areas.

If a garment needs sprucing up, you may be able to remodel it. With intelligent use of fabrics and notions and with imagination and creativity at your sewing machine, you can turn many garments into smart clothing for you and your family with little cash outlay. Suitable trims may be all you need to buy.

For more information on repairing, restyling or remodeling clothing, you may wish to get a copy of Extension Circular 385, "A Stitch in Time Saves Nine," that describes a variety of mends you can make by hand or machine. A copy is free on request.

VALUABLE HAZARDS

Restricting children's activities, even for safety's sake, can hamper their opportunity to learn.

One mother warns her child not to walk in mud puddles, even with boots on, because of the possible soil and mess. He is deprived of experiencing sloshing water and oozing mud. When he is not allowed to walk on the six-inch high curbs along a walk, he can't practice balancing. Mother's monotonous "be careful" becomes nothing more than a parting expression.

Overprotection is often a hazard to children. Dr. Doris W. Plewes, consultant for Canada's physical fitness program, says that accidents kill more school-age children than all diseases put together. These accidents are largely due to low energy level, slow reaction, clumsiness because of "muscle stuttering," and awkwardness from lack of movement skill. Dr. Plewes calls these children "physical illiterates."

Children need many activities to build their bodies, their eye-hand coordination and their judgment. They must meet some hazards and master them. Consider the actual value of an activity before you say "no" or "be careful" to your child. The activity you deny him may deprive him of an experience, even though slightly hazardous, that might be an accident or even a life saver later.

Health

To keep the home fires burning is a household necessity. Needing care and supervision. Defective or misused equipment. Lighted cigarettes cast aside. Materials afire by accident. Contribute to 12,000 deaths every year in this country. Half of all fire fatalities are tragedies happening at home. And a third among these dead are children at home, alone.

What causes more sudden death than any other chemical agent? An overdose of carbon monoxide. It can seep in and kill people in autos with motor running. And windows tightly closed. It can kill people at home, emanating from leaky fixtures. Or from faulty gas combustion. In order to give first aid, Apply artificial respiration. Administer pure oxygen.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

WEDNESDAY WAS QUIET ON CAPITOL HILL

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — It was a day of quiet contrast in the General Assembly Wednesday. The House, its school bus bill passed after three hours of debate Tuesday, had gone home for the week as the Senate met in solo session.

The contrast became evident when the Senate ran through one-half hour of routine business without even the slightest recognition that the House bill was before it.

NO REFERRAL YET

It took the House only eight days to pass the controversial measure which would permit parochial and private school students to ride tax-supported school buses.

But the Senate did not even bother to refer the bill to a committee, as is normally the practice when legislation passes from one house to the other.

"The bill will be referred to the Education Committee when we come back Monday," said Republican Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup.

NOT UNEXPECTED

The change of pace on the school bus bill was noticeable, but not unexpected.

Sen. Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, is on record that no action on school bus legislation will be taken until after public hearings March 24-25, March 31-April 1 are completed.

His committee has a Scranton Administration school bus bill before it. Working on what is called a "consent calendar" — which means no controversial legislation is considered by mutual agreement — the Senate unanimously passed two minor bills and sent them to the House.

20 BILLS ADVANCED

Another 20 bills were placed in a position for a final vote. Only 18 senators, nine Democrats and nine Republicans, were present on the floor for the session.

Other highlights:

State College Trustees — Four Democrats proposed to abolish the boards of trustees at the 14 state colleges and incorporate them into one 15-member board, to be known as the Board of Trustees of the State University of Pennsylvania.

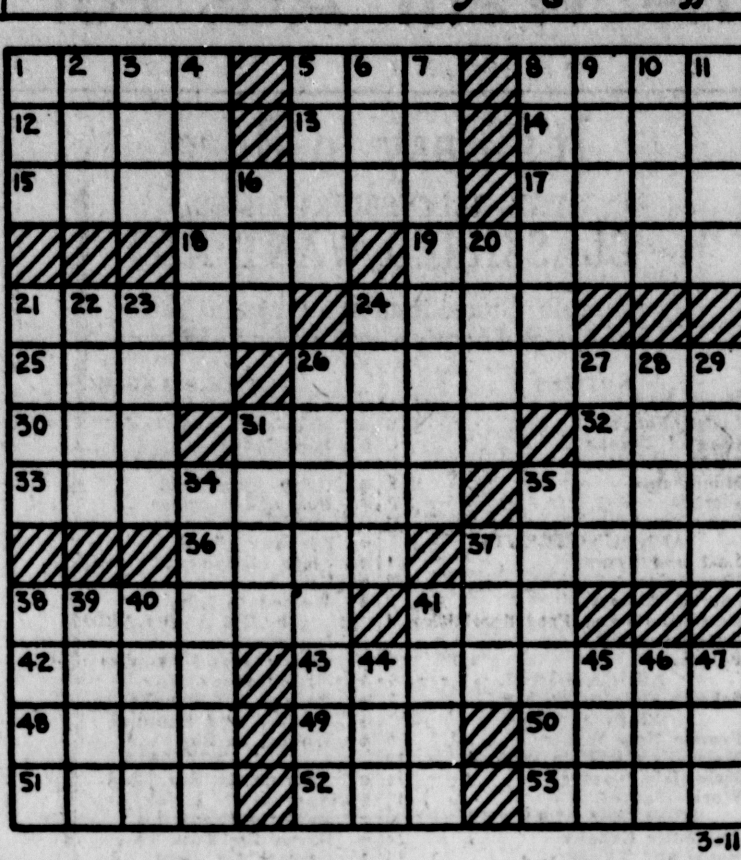

Confirmations — The Senate confirmed 10 justices of the peace nominations by unanimous votes, the first group of executive nominations to clear the chamber since the 1965 session began two months ago.

Sanitary Water Board — A bill to increase the powers of the State Sanitary Water Board was introduced with bipartisan support in the Senate. It was similar to a measure offered in the House Tuesday.

Team avocado with fresh fruit — oranges, peaches, pineapple or pears — and serve with French dressing and salad greens as a delightful first course for a summer supper menu. No other salad needed on the menu.

CROWDED CAMPUSES
When Is A University Too Big?
Did Size Cause U. Of C. Riots?

By JIM DAN HILL

THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA has set a limit of 27,000 students for the historic campus at Berkeley.

With 8,480 faculty and staff members also in residence, the Golden West's once fairest Alma Mater continues to be a bit bulgy.

The remainder of California's college and university-bound students are being channeled into junior colleges, and other state university and senior college campuses. High school academic records, aptitude admissions tests and other guidance techniques makes acceptance at Berkeley a burgeoning status symbol.

Other states' educators, with more deeply ingrained concepts as to democracy in educational opportunities, take a dim view of California's selectivity procedures. At the same time many admit a university can become too large.

This was at the decision for an enrollment ceiling at Berkeley.

MEANWHILE, some other giant-size, tax-supported universities are well past the 20,000 mark. Michigan has three. Most of the mid-west's Big Ten are above 20,000, with Minnesota leading the list; 40,000 on the sities actually have a point of diminishing values, a point of what economists long have cited for bigness in business and over expansion of an industrial plant?

In theory and practice, many respond with a resounding YES! Advocates of unrestricted, educational bigness insist it is merely a problem in proper organization.

It is, however, inconceivable that the most rabid advocate of unrestricted bigness could fail to agree that 122,000 students in the University of Paris are too many. They have been rioting, out of sheer educational frustrations, in mobs reminiscent of the French Revolution.

In America there are also those who say the University of California riots of this year were due to loss of rapport and breakdown of communications between students and faculty caused by excessive enrollments on the congested Berkeley Campus.

The mass lecture method, with graduate student "section hands" conducting the weekly quiz sections, is appalling to many, particularly to the students. One extreme case came to my attention. There were 1,600 students taking the same course. A student expressed surprise to his quiz master that the latter did not know his name, though the semester had but two weeks to go. This brought a much quoted retort: "How can I know every student in my section? There are 40 in the section. It meets but once a week; the day the prof is not lecturing. Moreover, there are forty of us quiz masters, and the prof does not know my name either!"

Quality instruction cannot prevail within such a technique. Little wonder that faculty-student understanding and rapport vanish from such practices.

QUANTITATIVE DIMINISHING return factors are likewise immediately apparent in excessive bigness of universities. For example: Time spent while classes are changing is a dead loss in usage of all instructional facilities.

Small compact institutions often do it in five minutes between class bells, for a lost use of facilities time of only 8 percent. Thus they also pick up an extra class period within the teaching day.

The spread of the large university campus makes 15 minutes between class bells necessary. The traditional 50 minute period for a semester-hour has shrunk to 45 minutes with 20 percent of every hour given to a dead loss of all the idle classroom, laboratories, lecture halls and audio-visual equipment and other teaching aids.

To argue that such qualitative and quantitative factors do not have a diminishing impact upon the values and efficiency of an educational institution is an effort toward denial of the obvious.

University education, as with business and industry, can indeed become too big.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the above is co-director, Joint Staff, Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, Wisconsin. The views expressed are his own and do not necessarily reflect those of his colleagues on the Joint Staff or of the Coordinating Committee as a whole.

Cook several extra pieces of bacon at breakfast time; wrap and refrigerate. Crumble the bacon next day and let it give extra flavor to a vegetable — creamed spinach, buttered snap beans or green peas.

PUSH MOVE TO EXTEND HUNT FOR CRIMINALS

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German Bundestag opened debate Wednesday on proposals to extend the hunt for Nazi murderers.

Justice Minister Ewald Bucher told the House that Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Cabinet would not make any proposal of its own on how to deal with Nazi war criminals after May 8, the day the statute of limitations rules out starting further prosecution of war crime defendants.

But Bucher said the Cabinet would abide by any decision Parliament reaches.

Under the constitution, a defendant cannot be prosecuted unless a case has been opened within 20 years.

ASKS 10 YEARS

Ernst Benda, a member of Erhard's Christian Democratic party, disagreed with Bucher. The West Berlin lawyer, who studied at the University of Wisconsin, plans to introduce a bill to extend the statute of limitations by 10 years.

The opposition Socialist party plans to propose an amendment to the constitution abolishing all time limits on prosecutions for murder and genocide. This requires a two-thirds majority for adoption.

Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has suggested that the 20-year limitation be retained but that it be counted from 1949, the year the West German Federal Republic was formed.

The Cabinet decided last November that the hunt for Nazi murderers would stop on May 8, but there was strong unfavorable reaction abroad, particularly in the United States and Israel.

THIRD OPERATION

LONDON (AP) — The Duke of Windsor underwent Wednesday the third of a series of operations to correct a retina detachment in his left eye.

"The operation was technically satisfactory," said a spokesman for the London Clinic Hospital. The spokesman added that the duke was recovering well. The duke is 70.

Demonstrators Ejected From U.S. Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tight security regulations were clamped Wednesday on the Justice Department where twice in two days government police hauled away chanting civil rights demonstrators.

The demonstrators camped Sunday and again Tuesday outside Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's office, demanding federal intervention to protect civil rights marchers in Selma, Ala. — a demand made also by several members of Congress.

At times the mood was friendly. At one point Tuesday Chief U.S. Marshal James McShane had lunches sent up to the demonstrators. But when the crowd in the corridors built to about 170 and orders to leave at closing time were ignored, about 30 members of the General Services Administration central protection force used bare hands to eject the young men and women.

The guards, like the demonstrators, were Negro and white. There was some kicking, some biting, but apparently no serious injury.

Later, Katzenbach announced the building would be open today only to employees and to persons with reasons for entering so the Justice Department can carry on with its business.

The melee outside the attorney general's office capped a day in which:

1. President Johnson released a statement deploring what he called brutality against Alabama Negroes and pledging government efforts to relieve tensions and make it possible for every citizen to vote.

CAN SEND TROOPS

2. Vice - President Hubert H. Humphrey met with a delegation of civil rights demonstrators and was quoted by one of their leaders, the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, pastor of New Bethel Baptist church, as saying Johnson and Katzenbach have the authority to send federal troops into Alabama.

3. The White House announced that John Doar, assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights, and Leroy Collins, director of the U.S. Community Relations Service, were on the

Bomb Kills Three In Office Building

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP)

A bomb exploded in a nine-story office building in downtown Singapore Wednesday, killing three Malaysians and injuring 35. Police believed Indonesian terrorists planted the bomb.

About a dozen Europeans were among the injured.

The bomb went off under a staircase between the first and second floors of the building. The bombing was the worst in a series of explosions in Singapore since late 1963. Police believe the blasts are part of Indonesia's anti-Malaysia campaign.

Romney Leads 10,000 Marchers To Protest Acts Against Alabama Negroes

By AUSTIN SCOTT
NEW YORK (AP) — Tens of thousands of Negroes and whites have poured out across the nation to protest demonstrations over the events in Selma, Ala.

In cities from Boston to Los Angeles, the demonstrators Tuesday marched, walked in picket lines and demanded federal protection for Alabama Negroes in the wake of Sunday's club and tear-gas attacks.

Police reinforcements were called out to handle demonstrations in Washington, D.C., New York City, Chicago and Detroit. Federal buildings were besieged in Cleveland, Oakland, Los Angeles, New Haven, Boston, and Syracuse, N.Y.

WIDE SPREAD

More than 1,000 persons marched outside the White House, where President Johnson kept in touch with events in Selma.

School children and mothers pushing baby carriages joined a march up New York's Fifth Avenue. In Washington, there were numerous speeches on the House floor condemning Alabama officials, and demanding federal guarantees of the right to vote and the right to assemble peacefully.

LARGE DETROIT MARCH

The biggest single protest was in Detroit, where Michigan Gov. George Romney, a Republican, and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh led an estimated 10,000 persons through the downtown area to circle the Federal Building five times.

"It is time that President Johnson acts," Romney told the crowd that stretched eight abreast for blocks. He, Cavanagh, and the Rev. Robert Hoppe, director of the Detroit Council of Churches' Commission on Religion and Race, called on U. S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow. Gubow promised to communicate their demands to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

CAPITOL DEMONSTRATION

In Washington, about 30 government police using only their bare hands waded into a crowd of an estimated 170 singing, chanting demonstrators and hauled them bodily away from the corridor outside Katzenbach's office.

About 650 individuals converged on New York City's Federal Bureau of Investigation Building in a four-hour demonstration that snarled traffic at East 69th Street and Third Avenue.

RUSH HOUR JAM

Chicago police arrested 24 persons after about 35 individuals blocked rush hour traffic in the downtown area. More than 1,000 spectators gathered as the demonstrators threw themselves in front of buses, cars and taxicabs at State and Madison Sts.

Two persons were arrested in Los Angeles as about 50 sit-in demonstrators blocked elevators in the Federal Building. Deputy marshals and building security guards dragged them away.

Would Restore DPI Chief's Power

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Democrats made good on their promise to introduce legislation designed to elevate the status of the State Superintendent of public instruction.

A bill offered Tuesday "on behalf of the entire Democratic caucus" would give the superintendent a vote on the State Board of Education and its two subordinate councils of basic and higher education. He would serve as the "chief executive officer" of all three bodies.

The superintendent presently is permitted to attend board meetings and participate in the discussions, but he has not vote. The Democrats contend the superintendent was stripped of all his stature when the State Board of Education was created in 1963 and given the policymaking responsibility for the state's educational program.

SCHOOL BUS PASSES HOUSE BILL AFTER 3-HR. DEBATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The battle was bitter the theme familiar. It was the issue of separation of church and state.

"This could lead to the very erosion of religious liberty," said one member of the House of Representatives.

"It could undermine the very principles on which our public school system is built," declared another.

And still another said injection of the religious issue was "ill-timed, shabby and ungentlemanly."

LONG DEBATE

These were the words as the House debated almost three hours Tuesday before passing legislation to provide tax-supported bus transportation for private and parochial school children along established routes in Pennsylvania.

"This bill will harm public schools and lead to the very erosion of religious liberty," declared Rep. Donald W. Fox, R-Lawrence, challenging the constitutionality of the bill.

But Rep. Russell J. Larmar, D-Berks, criticized the injection of religion into the controversy as "ill-timed, bad taste and uncalculated."

"GRAB FOR TAXES"

Lashing out at Rep. Percy G. Foor, R-Bedford, for a charge he made Monday that the issue had become a "parochial grab for public tax money," Larmar declared:

"The nonpublic school people have waged a fair fight. They did not threaten to dump their kids on the already overcrowded public school system, but they could have. They did not talk about the $250 million a year they spend on education, but they could have. And they did not talk about the millions of dollars they put into the construction of school buildings, but they could have. I think the remarks of the representative from Bedford were shabby and ungentlemanly."

Foor countered with the argument that the public school system is the cornerstone of the country.

20 SPEAKERS

"The bill seriously undermines the principals upon which the public school system was established and maintained," he said. "Using tax money must delay and weaken this system. If state aid goes far enough, could not the state impose restrictions and regulations on nonpublic schools?"

A total of 20 speakers spoke out for and against the controversial issue before it passed on a vote of 120-83.

The question of unconstitutionality was beaten down 119 to 82. Another proposal to commit the bill for further study was defeated 130 to 71.

Reps. Paul J. Hoh, D-Berks, and Earl S. Walker, R-Allentown, both Lutheran ministers, rose to oppose the bill.

117 SPONSORS FOR NEW BILL

HARRISBURG (AP) — If there's any bill in the House that should pass, it's the one aimed at pumping new life and strength into Pennsylvania's clean streams program.

The measure was introduced Tuesday with 117 sponsors, more than enough votes to guarantee passage.

The proposal, a product of more than three years work, increases the power of the State Water Board in enforcing the regulations of the Clean Water Act.

We are giving them more tools to work with," declared Rep. John F. Laudadio, D-Westmoreland, prime mover behind the proposal.

"For one thing, this bill redefines industrial waste to make sure it includes acid mine drainage," Laudadio explained. "under present law, permitting acid mine drainage into the waters of Pennsylvania is only unlawful when it involves clean waters as determined by the board."

New sections of the proposal would give the board the power to issue, suspend and revoke permits for coal mines.

Quaked Towns To Aid Other Areas

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Two of the communities hardest hit by the Alaska earthquake of Good Friday, 1964, have announced plans for anniversary observances.

Ralph Jones, city manager of Kodiak, said Tuesday fund-raising events will be held on March 27, the anniversary date. The proceeds will go to an Oregon community, not yet selected, which suffered in that state's floods this winter.

"We feel a moral obligation," Jones said. "We received so much aid from them last year." At Seward, City Manager Fred Waltz said the community has decided to set aside the Sunday after Easter as an annual day of memorial.

Patricia Neal Is Off Critical List

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Patricia Neal, winner of last year's Academy Award for best actress, is no longer on the critical list.

The 39-year-old actress suffered two strokes Feb. 17 and underwent brain surgery soon after she was hospitalized at the UCLA Medical Center. She won her Oscar for the role of the housekeeper in "Hud."

WOULD ADD JUDGE

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill to add a fifth judge to the Bucks County Court of Common Pleas is before the Senate Judiciary General Committee. The legislation was introduced Tuesday by Sen. Marvin V. Keller, R-Bucks.

2 BIG BILLS PASS SENATE UNANIMOUSLY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two major Scranton Administration proposals — industrial development loans and manpower retraining — are past their first legislative hurdle.

The bills were approved in the Senate on 49-0 votes Tuesday and sent to the House, but not before minority Democrats raised some pointed objections. The loan bill would expand the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority program by making counties with 4 per cent unemployment rates eligible.

The present minimum unemployment level is 6 per cent.

PHILOSOPHY MODIFIED

The measure would add five new counties — Chester, Philadelphia, Delaware, Warren and Dauphin—to the eligibility list. It also has the effect of making virtually every county in the state eligible by permitting those areas whose unemployment rate fell below 6 per cent to remain in the program.

The administration anticipates $18.5 million to cover the loans in the new fiscal year—a $13.5 million appropriation and $4.5 million in repaid loans.

Minority Leader John H. Devlin expressed the Democrats' concern that the philosophy of the PIDA program was modified by expanding loan eligibility.

"The original purpose of the

Jerry Lewis Has Hairline Fracture

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Doctors say it may be three months before comedian Jerry Lewis is fully recovered from a fall he suffered Friday in a television studio.

Lewis received a hairline skull fracture and concussion. His wife, Patti, said her husband's vision was temporarily blacked out and later he experienced double vision. "They say his equilibrium may be affected for several months."

Lewis is under treatment at his home.

PIDA program was to alleviate unemployment. Now we feel this legislation slightly modifies the intent to induce industry to locate or expand within the Commonwealth," he said.

The second bill would provide $6.6 million as the state's share for participating in the federal manpower retraining program—$3.7 million for the Labor and Industry Department to administer the program and $2.9 million to the Department of Public Instruction to assist in course preparation.

The Democrats contended the legislation did not need to pass at this time.

President, Chancellor Of U. Of California Resign

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) —

The Berkeley campus of the University of California today plunged into a new crisis today following the sudden and unexpected resignations of President Clark Kerr and acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson. The two men handed out printed announcements Tuesday to newsmen invited to Kerr's seventh-story office. Neither gave his reasons for resigning nor his plans for the future. They refused further comment.

ISSUES THREAT

There was no mention of the Free Speech Movement that rent the campus late last year. But FSM leader Mario Savio said Tuesday night in Selma, Ala., that mass demonstrations would be held again on campus if the resignations meant suppression of student political activity. Savio dropped out of the university last semester.

Kerr, 53, became president of the nine-campus statewide university in 1957. The 42-year-old Meyerson was appointed acting chancellor Jan. 2, exactly one month after a student sit-in at the administration building that ended with nearly 800 arrests.

SURPRISE MOVES

The resignations, effective March 25 at the next meeting of the University Board of Regents in Berkeley, took some of the regents by surprise.

But Board Chairman Edward W. Carter of Los Angeles refused to add to a prepared statement or to say whether he was surprised.

"Kerr and Meyerson took the initiative," Carter said. "We didn't fire them. I'd rather not speculate about their reasons."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, also a regent, said he would do "everything within my power" to get Kerr to rescind his resignation.

URGENT TO STAY

A special meeting Tuesday night of the emergency executive committee of the Academic Senate urged both men to stay on their jobs.

The campus and its nearly 27,000 students were quiet until last week when a non-student was arrested for carrying a sign on which was printed a four-letter word.

Seven persons were arrested as 1,500 students gathered in campus demonstrations Thursday and Friday, shouting the word over loudspeakers.

The so-called "Filthy Speech Movement" died quickly after the faculty refused to support it and Savio declined to take part.

COLLEGE LAW IN FOR DEBATE IN PA. SENATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state's two-year-old community college law apparently is in for more extended debate in the Senate.

No sooner had the chamber passed an administration bill Tuesday designed to overcome court objections of the 1963 act, than another bill was offered for the same purpose with bipartisan support.

The administration bill, passed 49-0 with reluctant Democratic support and sent to the House, eliminated a section which makes contracts by the college trustees binding on local sponsors.

WOULD REQUIRE APPROVAL
A Montgomery County Court declared this provision unconstitutional two weeks ago.

Senate Democrats, however, contend that the Scranton bill did not clarify the issue enough.

Minority Leader John H. Devlin joined with Sen. Robert D. Fleming, R-Allegheny, in offering a bill which added specific language pertaining to financial commitments.

Their bill would require college trustees to obtain approval from the local taxing sponsor before entering into financial contracts.

It also would eliminate an optional provision by requiring that the state contribute one-half the cost of capital construction of a college.

RAISES OBJECTIONS

The present law gives the state the option of contributing up to one-third of a college's capital construction cost.

Sen. William G. Sealer, D-Erie, raised the Democratic objections to the administration amendment.

"We feel this is nothing more than a stop-gap measure to meet the crisis evolving from the Montgomery County Court decision," he said, adding: "Because we wish not to impede the progress of the community college act, we will support this bill."

DIFFER OVER HOSPITAL FUSS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and veterans organization leaders remained at odds today over the administration's plan to close 31 veterans administration facilities.

John A. (Buck) Jenkins, National Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said after a 2½-hour White House meeting Tuesday:

"The President stated his position very frankly and 'we gave our side.'"

"The President said that the hospitals were antiquated, inefficient and were being supplanted by newer and better located hospitals," Jenkins said.

Asked about reports Johnson sought unsuccessfully to obtain support for the closings from the veterans group leaders, Jenkins said:

"The President did not ask us to sign any statements of support for the closings nor did he ask us to publicly support them."

SENATOR TRIES TO HELP WOMEN

SEATTLE (AP) — Women who travel on airlines have a champion in Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash.

As members of the Civil Aeronautics Board were holding a news conference during a visit to the Boeing Co. plant Tuesday, the senator interrupted.

"I'd like to ask a question," he said. "When are you going to allow women to have 10 more pounds of luggage on the plane than men? The ladies can't take enough of their things with them."

Chairman Alan S. Boyd of the CAB replied:

"We are taking another tack, senator, that it is better to persuade our wives they must cut down on baggage because we can't afford to pay the excess baggage charge."

ASK BOOST IN BUS FARES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission is considering proposed increases in bus fares filed by the H. E. Cook Bus Lines, Scotland, Franklin County.

The company asked the PUC Tuesday for permission to raise fares $2.375-a-year on its Chambersburg-Fayetteville route and on runs to Letterkenny Ordnance Depot, effective April 4.

The bus line said the increase would help offset long-standing operating deficits.

The line proposes to raise the one-way fare from Chambersburg to Red Bridge from 15 to 20 cents, and to Guilford Hills from 20 to 25 cents.

A 23-trip ticket to the latter point would go from $4 to $5. One-way depot fares and tickets would go up as follows from these points: Chambersburg, from 25 to 30 cents cash and from $3.50 to $4 per 20 trip ticket; Caledonia, from 40 to 45 cents cash and from $4 to $5.50 per 20-trip ticket.

No charge is made in the 40 cent one-way fare from Fayetteville, but the 20-trip ticket would be increased from $4 to $5.

SCOTT VIEWS NEW GOP PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says the Republican party could strengthen itself by the creation of a national assembly of all Republicans in federal and state public offices.

On the eve of the Republican Coordinating Committee meeting here today, Scott suggested the group recommend "a massive reforming of Republicans in strength." Scott, a former Republican national chairman, made the suggestion Tuesday night in a telegram to GOP Chairman Dean Burch. "I like the idea of the Republican party gathering its strength anew in the search for new ideas and constructive attitudes among those Republicans whose responsibility it is to carry to the voting population the Republican idea and the Republican way," Scott said.

In the perennial Arab-Israeli strife, 1965 is "the most dangerous year."

The words are those of Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic. He uttered them at a Cairo rally, in an atmosphere already heated by these developments:

1. Signs of an impending showdown with Israel over the Jordan River water scheme.
2. The reported all-up of Egyptian military reservists.
3. Disclosure of West German arms shipments to Israel and Nasser's counterplay seeking aid from the Communist bloc.
4. Continued internal unrest in Yemen, where Egypt already reportedly has 50,000 troops engaged.
5. A steady rise in recent weeks in Arab-Israeli border clashes, both ground and air. The plot began to thicken when it was discovered that West Germany was shipping $80 million worth of arms to Israel, including some American-made M48 tanks. Nasser, who has long been receiving massive arms aid from the Soviet bloc, demanded the shipments be stopped. Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany acceded, though it was noted that the deliveries to Israel were 80 percent complete.

LURES RED

Then Nasser, adept at twerking Western sensibilities, invited President Walter Ulbricht of Communist East Germany to visit Egypt. Ulbricht went, and for seven days was feted up and down the Nile. The visit culminated in cordial relations, a promise by Ulbricht of $100 million in aid to Nasser. It also infuriated Erhard, whose government has already given Nasser some $400 million in aid. West Germany, whose policy has been to sever relations with any nation recognizing East Germany, was in a serious dilemma. On the heels of this came reports that the United States might assume the task of supplying arms to Israel. These reports followed the visit to Tel Aviv of W. Averell Harriman, President Johnson's ambassador at large. The Cairo press referred to Harriman as "a Zionist agent."

BLOOD FEUD

Behind it all was the Arab-Israeli blood feud. The newest chapter is the Jordan River dispute. Israel claiming part of the water, began siphoning it from the Jordan last fall for irrigation of desert lands. The Arabs have already begun retaliation by starting to build works to cut off the Jordan waters before they get to Israel. In addition, there are reports of an overall Arab military command, and of special forces in training, presumably for

Chicago Murder In 1949 Is Cleared Up By Photo

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—"A filia mia," an inscription on the back of a photograph of a young girl, has uncovered a man who lived in Johnstown for 19 years as a fugitive from a Chicago murder, police say.

Captain of Detectives Samuel Coco said the man was using the name of James Mareannah, an alias for Salvatore Giannone of Chicago. He died Feb. 8 of natural causes at the age of 68.

Coco said Tuesday that a few months before Mareannah's death, he told his landlord of a murder he had committed in Chicago. A few days after Mareannah died, the landlord told Coco of Mareannah's confession.

CLEAR UP MURDER

"I gathered his personal belongings — clothing, old letters and photographs — and mailed them to Chicago," Coco said. Coco also investigated in Johnstown and the two police departments traded their information in a series of letters.

The last letter received by Coco came from Francis J. Flanagan of the Chicago Homicide Division and read: "The names, addresses, telephone numbers and snapshots supplied by you are sufficient in clearing up this murder."

"They told me," Coco said, "that the family denied knowing the man. Then they showed them the picture and a daughter made a slip. She said, 'That's me.' That broke it."

On the back of the photograph was the inscription, "a filia mia," which means "my daughter" in Italian, said Coco.

WANTED IN CHICAGO

Giannone was wanted in Chicago for the May 14, 1946, murder of John Bartuch, 44, of Chicago. Police said the shooting climaxed a quarrel between daughters of the Giannones and Bartuchs. Bartuch's wife, Madeline, 44, also was shot but recovered.

Giannone dropped out of sight after the shooting.

Mareannah appeared in Johnstown in early 1947. Coco describes him as a "floater" who went from one laborer's job to another, from one rooming house to another.

Mareannah didn't say much, very seldom associated with anyone, received no mail, and rarely left the Johnstown area, Coco said.

Mareannah was buried in Johnstown, Coco said.

Scranton Gives Views On Selma

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says the use of force by Alabama state troopers to halt a planned civil rights march was a "Mockery of justice... perpetrated upon peaceful demonstrators."

Scranton issued an official proclamation Tuesday urging a halt to what he termed "violent and un-American practices" occurring in Selma, Ala.

MILK PROBE IS HEADING INTO COURT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A state investigation of alleged kickbacks in the milk industry headed toward court today for a ruling on the milk commission's power of subpoena.

The probe opened Tuesday and quickly went into indefinite recess because 17 witnesses ignored subpoenas to testify.

Their attorneys contended the commission has power to subpoena individuals only when it cites them for specific violations of the Milk Control Act.

"They (the commission) have no right to go on this witch hunt," said Henry E. Rae Jr., a Pittsburgh attorney representing some of those subpoenaed.

Gov. Scranton ordered the investigation following published reports saying the Internal Revenue Service had uncovered rebates paid by milk producers to some dairies in violation of state law.

Robert Crusan, a special agent for the Intelligence Division of the IRS, testified the federal government had uncovered rebates totaling more than $3,400,000 in Western Pennsylvania. He said federal income taxes were paid on a sizeable part of them, but not all.

At the same time, the state House of Representatives adopted a resolution expressing "distaste" for the police handling of the march on Sunday. The march was in protest of alleged discrimination in voter registration, but it was halted by state troopers using night sticks and tear gas.

"In a free society the right to vote is a bulwark of all other liberties," Scranton said in his proclamation. "Dramatic evidence has been presented that this freedom to vote is being denied American citizens in Selma, Ala., and that violence is being used to enforce this denial."

HIGH-FLYING TRADITION
SOUTH SALEM, N.Y. (AP) — Capt. Joseph Mitchell, Eastern Airlines employee since 1938, and his wife named two of their three sons for airplanes — Douglas and Curtis.

Last June 7, they became grandparents for the first time. Douglas Mitchell, who recently became a pilot for Eastern, and his wife named their daughter Piper.

House To Guide Districting Lines
WASHINGTON (AP) — House action is expected in about one week on legislation to guide the states in redrawing congressional district lines to meet the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule.

The bill would require that no congressional district in one state vary by more than 15 percent from its mathematical population share; that districts be compact and in one piece, and that all members be elected by districts, excluding the present practice of electing one or more members at large.

The House Rules Committee cleared the bill Tuesday.

ISRAELI MAKES NEW BID TO GET GERMAN ARMS

By ERIC GOTTGETREU
JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Israeli government is reported ready to open full relations with West Germany if arrangements can be made to supply it the arms the Bonn government decided to withhold.

The foreign ministers of the 13 Arab League countries will meet Sunday in Cairo to plan retaliation against West Germany. Representatives of the Arab nations agreed at a meeting in Cairo Tuesday that "drastic measures against West Germany" should be taken if it carries out Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's offer to establish diplomatic relations with Israel.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic demanded that the Arab world break completely with Bonn. Kuwait and Yemen seconded his recommendation. Jordan said it would approve any action taken at the foreign ministers' conference.

An authoritative source in Jerusalem said Dr. Kurt Birrenbach, who has been in Israel as a personal emissary from Erhard, would return to Bonn today to report the Israeli government's readiness in principle to accept the West German offer of diplomatic relations.

The source said that Birrenbach would tell Erhard, however, that Israeli agreement depends on a satisfactory arrangement taking Israel's security needs into consideration.

West Germany suspended arms shipments to Israel last month in a futile attempt to get Nasser to cancel East German President Walter Ulbricht's visit to Cairo. When Nasser did not retreat, West Germany cut off economic aid to the U.A.R.

Says U. S. Forces Are Well Equipped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, says "every worthwhile effort we can think of" is being made to assure that the best equipment necessary is being supplied American forces there.

Westmoreland issued a report in which he said an Associated Press story on complaints of shoddy equipment being issued U.S. troops in South Viet Nam "is a compilation of statements taken out of context."

"I can assure you that our forces there are getting adequate equipment," he said.

3 YOUTHS FACE MORALS COUNT

TULLYTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Three youths who police say admitted giving liquor to Mary Grace Triolo, 15, the night before she was found dead in a field, face a further hearing next Monday on charges of corrupting the morals of a minor.

Authorities at first suspected that the girl had been strangled, but an autopsy later determined that she had died of natural causes, aggravated by alcohol and cold weather.

Arrested Monday were James R. First, 20, of Levittown, David Reading, 19, of Fairless Hills, and William Felice, 20, of Levittown. They were held in $2,500 bail each upon arraignment before Justice of the Peace John Melvin of Fallsington, on charges of corrupting the morals of a minor, tending to corrupt the morals of a minor, conspiracy to commit a criminal act, and furnishing liquor to a minor.

They are accused of giving the girl drinks of liquor, then abandoning her, alive, in the field.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Well, they're at it again.

"They" are the office cleanliness brigade who keep spotless desks themselves and want everybody else to keep a neat desk, too.

You find these ataxiophobes and amathophobes in every office.

An ataxiophobe is a person with a morbid dread of disorder.

MEMO-PAD MUSSOLINIS
An amathophobe is a person with a morbid dread of dust.

Their motto is "Every paper clip has its place — let's put it there."

They don't have blood in their veins. If you screwed off their heads and turned them upside down, detergent would run out. Squads of these self-appointed

Philadelphia Medical Examiner's office said the girl had suffered from a respiratory infection which was aggravated by the alcohol and the 12-degree weather.

janitors, these memo-pad Mussolinis, have been going by my littered desk lately murmuring things like:

"He's gone too far."

"Really, he's giving the place a bad name."

HEALTH MENACE
"It looks like the city dump. I think I saw a rat run out of it yesterday."

Then they go back to their own spotless desks, brushing at their clothing as if they had become contaminated, and spend the rest of the day cleaning their fingernails. They drop anonymous notes in the office suggestion box complaining my desk has become a public health menace.

Well, I say, to hell with all such neurotic nice-Nellies. If they want to clean up something, why don't they clean up City Hall?

SENSE OF PITY
What do I care if they call me "the Mayor of Germ Harbor?"

A man's desk should have a worked-in look, just as his home should have a lived-in look. It should bear the signature of his toil and dreams.

I feel a sense of pity when I see an office full of shining desks, their tops as barren of signs of human life as so many dunes in a desert. They seem so meaningless.

Who works at these desks? A number of nameless moles? Their desks show no evidence of belonging to anybody. Maybe they are manned by faceless automatons. Who cares?

I take pride in the condition of my desk. The two-foot pile of debris on it — which also has overflowed an adjoining bookcase, two windows and three file cabinets — took me as long to accumulate as it did the Pharaoh Cheops to build his great Pyramid. But my memorial is just as distinctive in its small way as his.

No one could mistake his pyramid for any other; no one could mistake my desk for any other.

Indians Reject Communist Order
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Home Minister G. L. Nanda rejected Wednesday a Communist demand in Parliament for the release of 29 pro-Peking Communists elected to the Kerala Legislature last week.

Nanda said the Communists had been detained in the nationwide roundup in December for reasons affecting the defense and security of India and therefore their election to the legislature made no difference.

Warns Against Break With U. S.

BONN, Germany (AP) — U.S. Ambassador George G. McGhee warned Tuesday night that the United States will return to isolationism if Europe severs its ties with its major North American ally.

"People talk about the possibility of Europe cutting loose from the United States or the United States returning to isolationism but seldom of both together," McGhee said in a speech. "The fact is that, should either occur, it will find its mirror image in the other."

Find Gold Bars On British Liner

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Police have found $280,000 worth of gold bars stolen aboard the British liner Cape Town Castle a month ago, but the ship's captain, H. L. Holland, said he doesn't believe any of the 320 members of his crew were involved.

The gold disappeared during a voyage from Durban to Southampton. Acting on a tip, police Tuesday found the bars aboard the vessel.

MOST SHOWS NEXT SEASON TO BE COLOR

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tentative schedules of the three major networks sound neither novel nor exciting, but 1965-66 may prove to be a turning point: The year of the big color breakthrough.

NBC announced earlier this week that 27 of its 29 regularly scheduled evening programs next season would be colorcasts — 96 per cent compared with about 70 per cent this season.

ABC has been increasing the number of its color shows over the past two seasons from a point where only its cartoon shows were tinted.

MORE COLOR SETS

The big foot-dragger in color has been CBS which has had a policy of supplying color shows only when sponsors asked for them. Tuesday there was a change in executive thinking.

John A. Schneider, appointed last week as president of the CBS TV network, said in his first official announcement that both "The Red Skelton Show" and "The Danny Kaye Show" would go to color in the fall. Both are ideally suited to it.

NBC recently declared there were about 2,800,000 color sets in use in the country and predicted the total would reach 5,000,000 by next year.

ONLY A FRACTION

While this is a respectable number, it still represents a fraction of the more than 50,000,000 TV-equipped homes in the country. But it is enough, obviously, to lead Schneider to state that "the level of color television set ownership now warrants color broadcasts on a weekly basis this fall" on CBS.

"The Pope and the Vatican," on NBC Tuesday night, was a good example. The news program undertook to illustrate the change in the Roman Catholic Church, to shed some light on the personality of Pope Paul VI, to show some of the ancient and beautiful ceremonies of the church and to show some portions of the Vatican — a large order.

Much of the color film was a delight to the eye but most of the time it was accompanied by a dry-as-dust commentary in an

Suburban Crimes Rise 18 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, reporting a 13 per cent increase in serious crimes in the nation last year, says the rise was most marked in the suburbs.

FBI statistics showed, Hoover reported Tuesday, that the crime rate rose 18 per cent in the suburbs, compared with 11 per cent in the cities and 9 per cent in predominantly rural areas.

The total for the nation was more than 2,151,000 crimes, compared with nearly 1.9 million in 1963.

Hoover said the higher suburban crime rate is partly due to a rapid increase in population, without a corresponding increase in police protection.

THUG SLAIN BY "ACCOMPLICE"

BRISTOL, Pa. (AP) — Bristol Twp. Police Chief Richard Templeton has disclosed that an undercover agent posing as an accomplice trapped a burglar last week and killed him in self defense.

Templeton said the police agent had been assigned to win the confidence of Ernest Emplitt, 26, who was suspected of several burglaries in lower Bucks County.

He said the agent became Emplitt's "accomplice" and tipped off the police to his plans. The police were watching three stores Thursday night when Emplitt and his accomplice broke into one of them, a drug store. Emplitt took $42 from the cash register.

Templeton said that as police close in, the undercover agent drew his gun and tried to arrest Emplitt, who attacked him with a crowbar. He said the agent fired five times and four shots hit Emplitt.

Emplitt died in Lower Bucks County Hospital Saturday.

The undercover agent's identity was withheld.

U. S. HAS FEW CRAFT TO STOP RED ARMS FLOW

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has only a handful of craft designed for the kind of interception operation that might be used to stem the flow of gun-running boats from Communist North Viet Nam.

The Pentagon has been reported considering use of the 7th Fleet in an effort to block these boats and the arms and men they have been carrying to guerrilla-controlled points on South Viet Nam's coast.

The Navy's scarcity of craft designed specifically for such patrol and interception operations contrasts sharply with World War II days when the U.S. Navy had more than 300 PT-type boats.

IS BEING BUILT

Navy spokesmen said today that six motor gunboats, descendants of the PT boats, are in commission now and that 15 more are under construction or to be contracted for.

If there is to be greater patrol and inspection of the more than 72,000 junks and some small cargo ships that operate along the coast of South Viet Nam, some of them actually carrying concealed loads of munitions, one or a combination of the following alternatives will have to be employed:

1. Build up the size of the small-boat patrol fleet operated under the South Vietnamese flag, with U.S. Navy personnel present on some boats as "advisers." The boats now used are hand-built, rudimentary in construction, slow in speed.
2. Acquisition by the U.S. Navy of more modern motor gunboats, operated by the Navy.
3. Increased air patrols along the coastline, conducted by land-based or carrier aircraft.

The Navy's present six boats were purchased in Norway, and eight more are on order. The first two purchased were aluminum-hull construction, the remainder are double-plank wood.

Unlike the old PTs, the modern motor patrol boat carries no torpedoes. It is armed with 20- and 40-mm guns. This class of boat is big — 90 feet over all — and carries a crew of about 20. It has a speed in excess of 40

MANILA (AP) — The U.S. ambassador to Indonesia said Tuesday the Indonesian government seems to want an income-sharing agreement with American rubber companies similar to one it reached in 1963 with foreign oil companies.

The Indonesian government took over management of plantations of the Goodyear and U.S. Rubber companies in North Sumatra after workers demanded their seizure in retaliation for U.S. actions in Viet Nam.

VICTORY ENDS IN RIOT; NINE BOYS STABBED

DETROIT (AP) — Nine white youths were stabbed and a 13-year-old Negro girl was cut by flying glass in a riot apparently set off Wednesday night by a heavily-favored team's defeat in the Michigan high school regional basketball tournament.

One policeman said the riot was "definitely racial." Police said all of the assailants were Negroes.

Two Negro youths and a 15-year-old Negro were being questioned in the stabbing of James Lucas, 16, a suburban Highland Park High School student. Lucas was stabbed in the heart, doctors said. He was listed in fair condition following surgery.

The melee erupted as a last-second Highland Park basket ended previously unbeaten Detroit Northwestern High's 17-game winning streak.

The youths were stabbed as the crowd of 3,200 fans poured from the gymnasium.

"All hell broke loose inside and out," said one policeman.

Police said a witness quoted knots and an operating radius of about 400 miles.

his assailant as saying "this is for beating us out of the state tournament."

Northwestern is an almost all-Negro high school. About 50 per cent of Highland Park's student body are Negroes.

Have No Frog Of Olympic Calibre

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — This city, its mayor says, doesn't have "a single frog of Olympic caliber."

Mayor Victor H. Schiro made the comment Tuesday when he announced New Orleans will not have an entry in the Jumping Frog Jubilee at Angels Camp, Calif.

"The few that we do have are fat and tender and we eat them," Schiro informed jubilee officials.

Ever stuff shrimp? To do so, clean and devein large shrimp and split, but not all the way through. Fill the shrimp with a savory, buttery bread-crumbs stuffing and pinch together. Dip in melted butter to coat well and bake in a hot oven for about 10 minutes or until cooked through.
